Introduction to astronomy, the basic of astrology

This book is to make You a better astrologer by showing that only Vedic Sidereal astrology is the most accurate

Beware; English is not my native language; the text is as I write it, without any check or proofreading, it may have faulty grammar or spelling, it does not matter, what matters is the message.

This book is not for beginners, it is only for researchers and students in astrology and astronomy, this book is meant for being thoroughly researched and analysed using all the tools vedic astrology have to offer, the most reliable systems I use in the chart example are derived mostly from Parashara, Nadi and KP system.

Any “newspaper astrology” or “cookbook astrology” as I call them will be almost useless here and these “almost useless books” makes up to at least 90% of all astrological books on the market, they are written by people who generally have a narrow knowledge of astrology and they are written for sale, not for teaching people or give some enlightenment. They are written for people who have very little or no clue of understanding of what astrology is whether Vedic, Western, Hellenistic, Babylonian, Tibetan etc....they want immediate results as if we can show the whole life of a person in 5mn....so it is a joke.

You can throw immediately in the bin almost any astrology book with no examples inside, no charts and with only a parrot repetition of general results, ....planet such and such in such and such sign will make You like this and like that..... some vague blah-blah-blah recipe from pseudo-astrologers who make the naïve believers actually more confused and bewildered than having a straight upto the point scenario of their life or lifepath.

Before applying astrology to “blind charts”; that is charts of people or customers the astrologer know nothing about their life, we should train ourselves by studying living examples first; “the proof of the pudding is in the eating”. For astrology that means that a person’s life , character and happenings, from birth to death, should fit 100% to the astrological guidelines and theories applied to the chart, if only 50, 60, or 80% is correct then you are doing dodgy astrology.

If a person’s character and happenings in life does not fit your predictions then either your “mixing of the cake” that is your astro-logic cooking interpretation is wrong, or the recipe itself, the astrological-astronomical calculations and theories are wrong. Or even worse; both are wrong!!!!

You have to have the proper tools and computer for astrological calculations, unless you want to do all the calculations by hand....GOOD LUCK!!! You can go back to middle ages then. Or using a cell phone with dodgy astrology software trying to fit the whole cosmos and calculations on a few square inches of a tiny screen; it is like shooting a rhinoceros with a needle.

The problem with modern Indian astrology, so called Vedic, is that they are not sure, they do not know where the zodiac starts and assume that the 12 zodiac signs are equivalent to the constellations bearing the same names, that is they do not understand the declination of equinoxes and thus apply the ayanamsa to both the nakshatra star constellations and the zodiac. ). In all the Vedas it is said everywhere that, for any date, the zodiac starts at the vernal equinox, there is no mention that we should apply any ayanamsa to it, ayanamsa applies only to stars/ nakshatras, not to planets. If we want to follow something whether Ayur veda, Dhanur or Jyotish etc, we have to accept authorized books, the Vedas. Vedas are more important than Guru or teacher because if the teacher say something contradictory to the siddhanta the conclusion of the Vedas, He should be immediately rejected because He speculates, concoct, mix up, make a “Hodgepodge” khichari recipe (“kitchari” means mixture, it is an Indian National dish where you throw lentils rice and almost any available vegies and spices). If one follows Vedas he is Āstika and if He does not he is nāstika, an atheist denying the authority of Scriptures or Vedas, Vedas is like the mother, only she have to be trusted if you do not know your father, your origin. There is no other way around.

So the modern "Jyotishs" follow the Jyotish astrology part of the Vedas, which is good, but without first understanding and applying the astronomical part of it for the calculations. It is called the philosophy of ardha-murgi-nyaya or 'the logic of half-a-chicken.'; If we take only the astrological knowledge from the Vedas and try to get some result out of it, it is like cutting the head of the chicken while expecting some eggs; the head of astrology is astronomy from Vedas, not from somewhere else.

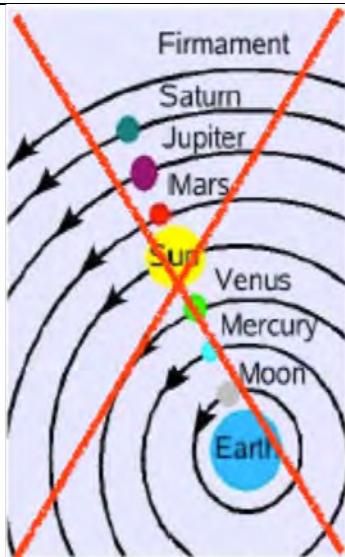

You have to understand the 26000 year cycles and the pole star around which all planets and stars are turning  $360^{\circ}$  every 24 Hrs. .... that is, .... the earth does not spin, the sky does; we see it turning around the pole star every day. .... Shocking isn't it !!!... try to think properly; if you were rotating on a spinning globe You are going to have a lot of problems; You are going to move (at the equator) 40000 km in 24 hours, that is 1666 km/h, much faster than the speed of sound of 1234 km/h and almost twice faster than a commercial airplane !!!!...you will also have also permanent unidirectional winds of 1666 km/hr. at the equator and 1532 Km/ hour at the tropics; it does not happen!!!! ..... What to speak about satellites, plane travel/ itinerary, east to west, south to north, there will be a lot of problems... What about sometimes sending satellites westward in space !!! . What about a plane, let say, from Johannesburg shooting, going north to Paris; the plane will land in New York, in USA or in the pacific if the earth was turning, or if we shoot a ballistic missile or a shell with a canon aiming at a target, the object will completely miss the destination all the all the time if the earth was rotating....get some Brain... Think.

Below is the root of misunderstanding the constellations being same as the Zodiac

We see that Tropical  $0^{\circ}$  Aries (in year 2000) is in Pisces constellation (not Pisces tropical Zodiac)

Then we have to analyse the different theories regarding the solar system

Geocentric: Earth Center

The geocentric models of Aristotle and Ptolemy although incomplete in the picture that does not show the epicycles which will make the outer planets position correct but we will still find the inner planets epicycles not fitting in. the system as the inner planets are sometimes in front and sometime eclipsed behind the sun keeping almost the same distance from sun, also we will probably never know about what was their real cosmological concept as the Library of Alexandria, the biggest in the world, was set on fire by Julius Caesar and Early Christians may have destroyed what remained of the Alexandrian Library, as also later the Vatican declared the gnostics or astrologers/ astronomers as heretics and burn them to keep the sheeple under their control (It is more or less similar nowadays with governments; to cheat they have to lie then arrest people who dare to speak the truth,...inquisition #2)

Tycho Brahe 17th century was the astronomer of the king of Sweden and teacher of Kepler, He had the best calculations of his time using telescopes, Kepler, His student, stole his discoveries most probably also murdered him and re-created an heliocentric model with the same calculations to get the credit.

Heliocentric: Sun Center

The modern theory of the heliocentric model looks good mathematically speaking but in this model the Earth have to rotate on itself so fast and the sky with the stars have to be motionless but that is not what we experience on Earth or see from Earth.

There is absolutely no scientific evidence that the Earth is rotating, instead there were several ignored experiments that prove Earth is not rotating (please read Book; 2007 Robert A. Sungrenis_Gallileo was wrong_Evidence for geocentrism) available for free here;

Six Cosmological Systems Geocentric vs. Heliocentric

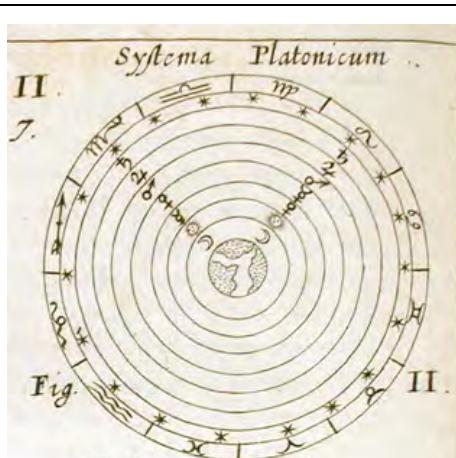

Athanasius Kircher, Iter exstaticum (Würzburg, 1660; "Ecstatic Journey through the Heavens")

There is some hybrid systems between the two Geocentric and Heliocentric models, the term "geo- heliocentric" may better characterize any of these systems!!!!

Ptolemaic system

All planets revolve around the central Earth.

Platonic system

Like the Ptolemaic, except the positions of Venus and Mercury are switched

Capellan or Egyptian system
Venus and Mercury revolve around the Sun.

4. Tychonic system (Vedic)

Planets revolve around the Sun.*
The Sun in turn revolves around the Earth

4. Semi-Tychonic system

Like the Tychonic, except Jupiter and Saturn revolve around the Earth.

4. Copernican system

All planets revolve around the Sun.* The Moon is a satellite and not a planet.

Six chief world systems were debated in Galileo's world: "Geocentric" refers to systems centered on the Earth.

Below is an artistic representations of the Vedic Universe where the seven coverings are also depicted. In reality, each one of the coverings is 10 times the Diameter of the previous one, with the first covering being 10 times the diameter of the inside universe and there are unlimited Brahma and universes like this called Brahmandas (the egg or bubble like universe of Brahma)

Extract from Siddhanta Siromani;

The slow-moving planets are constantly surpassed by the stars moving with increasing velocity. The planets fall behind proportionally in their own path.

Now the movement of bha-cakra, the fundamental concept of astronomy, is explained in two verses. Brahmā created the bha-cakra and the planets that are seen revolving in the sky. He has arranged for their incessant motion. Bha-cakra means the group of Aśvini and other stars. The sun and others are planets. These stars are arranged all around beginning from the east. The planets are placed one above the other around Aśvini and other stars. The moon is the lowest, Mercury is above him, then Venus (Sukra). Ravi is next, next is kuja. Next is guru. Next is Sani. Above all these planets, the bha-cakra consisting of Aśvini and other stars is placed at a distance. The orbits of these planets will be stated in the chapter on orbits. Then how is it said that the sun and others are in Aśvini and other stars, because there is so much of distance between them. True, one end of the sura (rope) is tied to the center of the earth and the other end at the beginning of Aśvini. All the planets are like beads tied to that string at various levels. This bha-mandala is split into twelve divisions and the planets are placed in these divisions. The point of intersection of the orbits and the string end in rāśi. We have briefly explained about rāśi here. We will speak more about them in the next two chapters. This bha-cakra is placed in the sky by Brahmā. Pravaha Vayu who always moves towards the west pushes the bha-cakra. Thus, it also moves towards the west. This westwards movement of bha-cakra is faster and it completes a rotation in a day. The planets which are attached to the bha-cakra move slowly towards the east in their various orbits situated at different levels. The westward motion of bha-cakra is greater than the eastward motion of the planets, thus, their eastward movement is not perceived. The stars situated at the north and south of this bha-cakra are designated as pole stars.

Extract from G V Tagare_Brahmanda Purana p.201.

Chapter 21, Verse 35. Understand the movement of the sun during the southern transit, as he goes to that quarter. His movement is above all the guardians of the quarters.

36. During his southern transit, the sun rushes forward like an arrow that is discharged. He revolves always, taking the circle of luminaries with him. (comment; so according to this Purana the Sun in revolving)

94 ;...The Potter's wheel whirls still more slowly at the Navel. In the same manner, like the lump of clay in the middle, the pole star (Dhruva) revolves.

95-96. They say that the day and the night together consist of thirty Muhurtas. Whirling in between the two quarters, Dhruva revolves in circles. Just as the navel of the potter's wheel remains there itself, so also, it should be known that Dhruva whirls there (without changing its place) itself. (comment; so the earth does not rotate, the sky does; the pole star with the whole cosmos and stars rotates on itself 360° every nakshatra/celestial day of 23hrs 56mn. And that is what we see from earth every single day)

144. To the close of Mesa and Tula, the duration of the day from sunrise to sunset is fifteen Muhurtas. The night is also equally long. (comment; so equinoxes occurs when sun enter Aries or Libra, puranas refer to tropical zodiac only)

147-149. The great sages say that one should know that time as Visuva (Equinox). One should understand the equinox through the position of the sun (crossing the equator) and should see the time through the moon (tithis, moon-days). When the day and the night are of equal duration, it shall be the Visuva (equinox). Then during the equinox, religious gifts should be offered to the manes and to the Brahmanas particularly because it happens to be the face of gods. (comment; in all religions, equinoxes and solstices, like a cross in the sky, are sacred for vows, gifts and auspicious deeds ).

Chapter 22 verse 8. The group of luminaries, the sun and the moon, the stars and constellations along with the planets move about, at the will of Dhruva....(comment; so the earth does not rotate, the sky does; the pole star with the whole cosmos and stars rotates on itself 360° every nakshatra/celestial day of 23hrs 56mn. And that is what we see from earth every single day)

9-10. They are fastened to Dhruva by means of bonds in the form of rows of winds. Their junction, difference, time, movement, rising and setting, portentous phenomenon, the southern and northern transits, the equinox and the colours of the planets (?)—all these function, due to Dhruva. (we can see the lolestar as the axis of the )

82. When presided over by Dhruva, those two rein-cords are dragged, the sun revolves in circles within (the orbit). (so Sun is orbiting 1 year around earth)

Earth non rotation accepted by Alberuni, Varaha Mihira and Lilly,... quotes;

"When he (Alberuni) was brought to Ghazna as a hostage, he enjoyed the reputation of a great'munajjim' i.e. "astrologer - astronomer". By the time he wrote 'Indica' thirteen years later after his involuntary immigration to Afghanistan, he was a master of astrology, both according to the Greek and the Hindu systems.

Alberuni agrees with Varaha Mihira that earth does not rotate (divya 's comments ; as was Ptolemy and William Lilly who was Queen Victoria's astrologer and was accepting Ptolemy). Alberuni goes on to quote Brahmagupta (who believed in a rotating earth ):"The followers of Aryabhata maintain that the earth is moving and the heaven resting.

Alberuni does not agree with Brahmagupta and is unable to understand (accept) the rotation of the earth and goes on to write: "Supposing this to be true, and that the earth makes a complete rotation eastward in so many breaths as heaven does according to his (Brahmagupta's) view, we cannot see what should prevent the earth from keeping an even and uniform pace with heaven." Alberuni refuses to accept the theory of the rotation of the earth and goes on to say: "Besides, the rotation of the earth in no way impair the value of astronomy, as all appearances of an astronomic character can quite as well be explained according to this theory as to the other (my comments; heliocentricity or geocentricity, both have the same mathematical observations such as angles, distances from earth, speed in the sky, etc.. ). There are, however, other reasons which make it impossible."

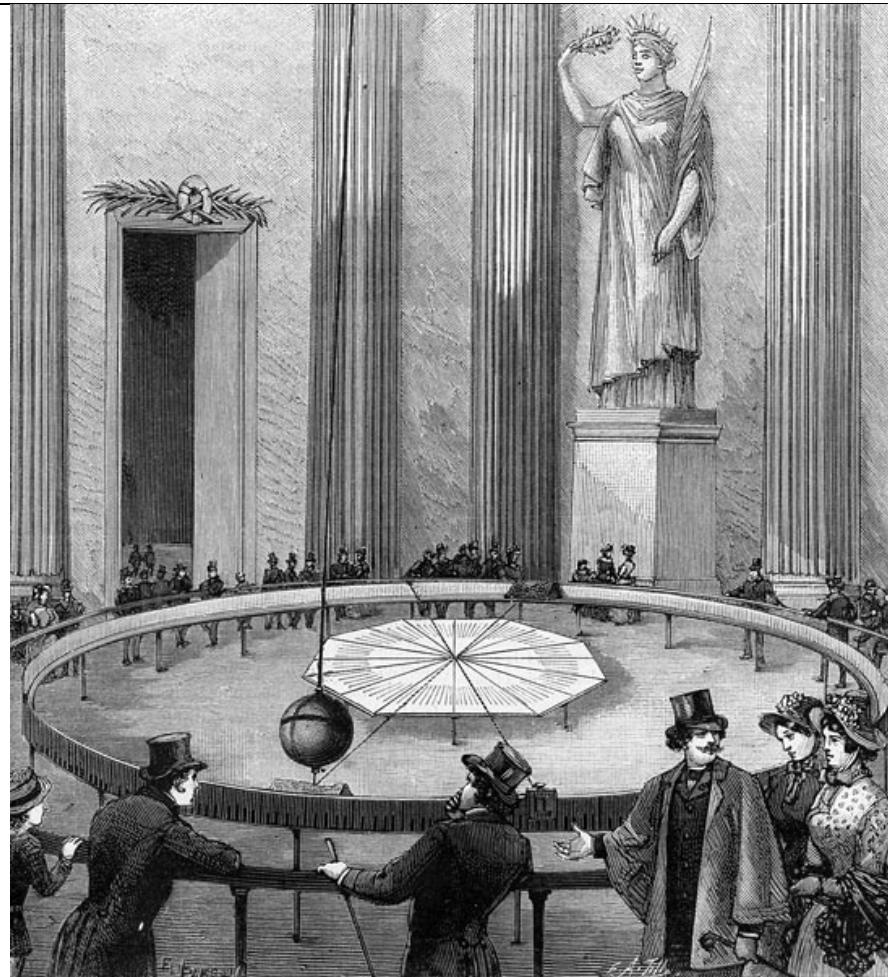

Alberuni quotes heavily from Brahmagupta whose Brahma-siddhanta was composed in AD 628. But it was Aryabhata, born in AD 476, the first to hold that the earth was a sphere (the Surya Siddhanta declared this long before) and rotated on its axis and that the eclipses were not the work of Rahu but caused by the shadow of the earth falling on the moon. His Aryabhatiya was composed in AD 499.(so it was His first deviation from vedic conclusion about earth rotation) It is clear from above that it was over a millennium before Galileo, Copernicus and Newton that the Hindu philosophers had formulated the theories about the correct globular shape of the earth and speculated wrongly about the rotation of the earth and gravity.

Coriolis effect does not prove earth is rotating;

Foucault pendulum rotates 360° every 23 hours 56 minutes 4 seconds., that does not proves earth rotates but it does prove that the pendulum follow the sky rotation because a "sidereal" day is 23 hours, 56 minutes, 4 seconds. that is the TIME for the stars to make a 360° ROTATION AROUND THE FIXED EARTH.

If earth was rotating on itself 360° in 24hrs then the pendulum should take 24hrs exactly to make 360° rotation, this is due to the gravitational, magnetic pull of the stars, same as the coriolis effect on water in a cyclone or in a bathtub; flushed water in a bathtub or basin also turns in opposite direction in north or south hemisphere, and do not turn at all exactly on equator, there is a video on that in Youtube.

Satellites in geostationary orbit must be subject to the same gravitational/ magnetic pull of the stars and earth to stay still in space, sun and moon passing nearby also affects its orbit that cannot be a perfect circle Foucault pendulum in Paris; Léon Foucault first performed the experiment in 1851; there is now one in New York, in the UN building, there's one in the science museum in San Francisco, and God knows how many others.

The Foucault experiment does not prove the earth is rotating. The Foucault pendulum does not show the 24 hrs rotation of the Earth; It shows the sky rotation/ magnetism around earth in 23h56m that is the celestial day , The Coriolis effect does not prove the earth is rotating either, it shows the same thing; magnetism.... counterclockwise in northern hemisphere and clockwise in southern hemisphere, making water, cyclones, clouds turning, attracted to the sky rotation above; ask meteorologists. But the clouds tend to move generally eastwards as do the cyclones (how is this possible if the earth is supposed to move 1666 km/h eastwards at the equator )

Heliocentrism Is Dead— There Is No Stellar Parallax

by Anthony Migchels

Copernicus was a Sun worshipper who had been studying Platonic mysticism, which claimed the Sun was the highest in the observable Universe. It was this that drove him in his quest for Heliocentrism, at the cost of the facts. Heliocentrism, the long standing belief that the Earth revolves around the Sun, is dead.

The key evidence for it, stellar parallax, does not exist. The implications of this stunning fact are enormous. Not only does this end Heliocentrism as a viable system, it also ends our ideas about the distance of the stars.

Tycho Brahe has been right all this time. The Sun revolves around the Earth and the Earth is the center of the Universe.

Do you not believe me? I don't blame you. The implications are enormous. But allow me to explain what is going on.

Historical Context

Throughout antiquity and the Medieval era, Geocentrism had been the norm. Ptolemy was the great sage of this idea and his system, which claimed that all celestial bodies circle the Earth, was generally accepted as the standard.

However, already in antiquity, astronomers were starting to have doubts, as they were suspecting the Planets, Mercury and Venus in particular, were circling the Sun.

By the time of the late Middle Ages, it was becoming clear that the Planets were indeed circling the Sun and that the Ptolemaic system needed a serious update to accommodate this.

Then Copernicus published his famous 'Revolutionibus' in 1543, describing the orbit of the Planets around the Sun.

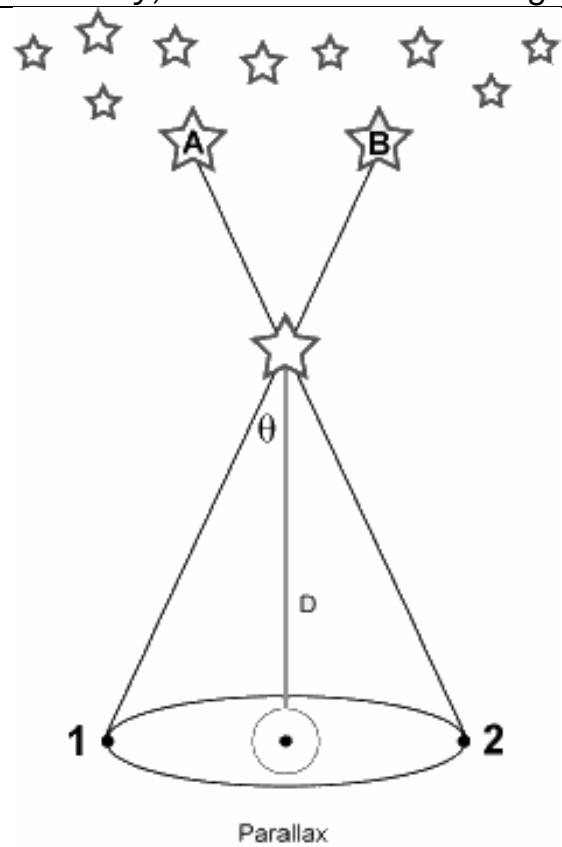

However, Copernicus did a whole lot more than just that: he also put the Earth in an orbit around the Sun.

And this was a wild leap of the imagination, which was absolutely not warranted with the available evidence.

In the first place, astronomy had always seen the Planets as simply wandering stars, luminescent spheres on the firmament, only different from the other stars because they were moving, unlike the others.

To suddenly claim the Earth was just another Planet was not at all uncontroversial, and it still isn't.

Secondly, we should be witnessing stellar parallax when the Earth circles the Sun.

stellar-parallax

If the Earth is orbiting the Sun, then this should show in relative movements of closer and further away stars.

That is; earth in winter (1) sees closest star in position B, 6 months later Earth in position (2) should see same star in position A with other stars in the backdrop, the example is only an example with drastic difference,

If some stars are closer to earth than others and if the earth is rotating we should see a slightly different photo of the sky every 6 months with some stars not in the same position, however this have never happened; conclusion; the earth should be fixed then and the sky is rotating, that is what we see every day anyway.

Parallax is what we see when we drive by a landscape and closer by objects seem to be moving more quickly than those further off.

Stellar parallax, then, should result from the movements of the Earth. Closer stars should show relative motion compared to further away stars.

And this was simply not being observed at the time.

However, Copernicus and his followers explained this away by saying that the Stars were simply too far away for the effect to be observed.

In doing so, he also laid the foundation for the insane size of the Universe that 'science' nowadays claims. The Universe has been ballooning immensely, since the days of the Copernicus...

It is for these reasons that Tycho Brahe published his 'An Introduction to the New Astronomy' in 1588, proposing a Geocentric, Neo-Ptolemaic system, where the Sun revolves around the Earth and the Planets around the Sun.

The Tychonic system is simpler than the Copernican one and definitely fitted the observable evidence of the time better than Heliocentrism. It still does today.

By explaining away the lack of stellar parallax, Copernicus was in fact not in accordance with Occam's razor, which claims that the simplest solution is usually best.

However, the Tychonic and Copernican Systems would compete with each other for centuries. The reason for this is mainly that, for some mysterious reason of their own, Kepler, Galileo and Newton, would all three support Heliocentrism.

As a result, their fame based on their own achievements, would rub off on Heliocentrism credibility.

And this was not warranted, because Kepler's elliptical orbits, Galileo's observations of Jupiter's moons and Newton's laws of gravity, fit equally well with the Tychonic as the Copernican system! This point is really very vital to understand the history of the Heliocentric deception.

Stellar Parallax.....or?

Then in 1838 something remarkable happened: Friedrich Bessel for the first time observed star movement. Shortly thereafter a number of stars were observed moving on the firmament relatively to other stars.

This in itself was an interesting achievement, a testament to improving telescopes. However, Bessel and his contemporaries quickly jumped to the conclusion that this must be the stellar parallax that they had been looking for ever since Copernicus, no less than three centuries. But this was most likely a premature conclusion. After all: parallax is the seeming movement of closer by stars relatively to further away ones as the result of the Earth orbiting the Sun.

The fact is that the star movements that Bessel and colleagues observed, might have been caused by other reasons.

However, by the authority of their great predecessors, astronomers and physicists were heavily invested in Heliocentrism, even though the Tychonic system was, by all available evidence, still the preferable system.

As a result, Bessel's observations were quickly jumped upon as having finally settled the issue and everybody rested assured Heliocentrism was a fact.

This led to some horrible disasters later on, most notably the Michelson-Morley catastrophe, culminating in the mystique of 'relativity' and a wasted century for astronomy. We'll come back to that later.

Meanwhile, 'stellar parallax' was considered a given and ever since mainly a proud member of science's hall of fame.

However, since these days astronomers have been faithfully logging the movements on the firmament of hundreds of thousands of stars.

And now comes the great kicker: it transpires that about half of the logged stars show 'parallax' (or at any rate, movement). But about half of each move in opposite directions!

This is called positive and negative stellar parallax.

However: if we are indeed witnessing stellar parallax as a result of the Earth's orbit around the sun, all parallax should be in the same direction!

As a result we must conclude that the movement of the stars that we have been measuring ever since Bessel does NOT validate Copernican Heliocentrism, but IS consistent with Brahe's System. Furthermore, we cannot call these stars' movements parallax at all. Because if these movements were caused by moves in the firmament, a result of the stars spinning around the Earth, or vice versa, all movement should still be in the same direction.

We must conclude that the movement that we are seeing is caused by other factors, and cannot be called stellar parallax at all.

And this also means that all our calculations of the distance of the stars are rubbish too.

And this brings us full circle, because it was Copernicus himself who began the insane blowing up of the Universe, based on nothing but speculation.

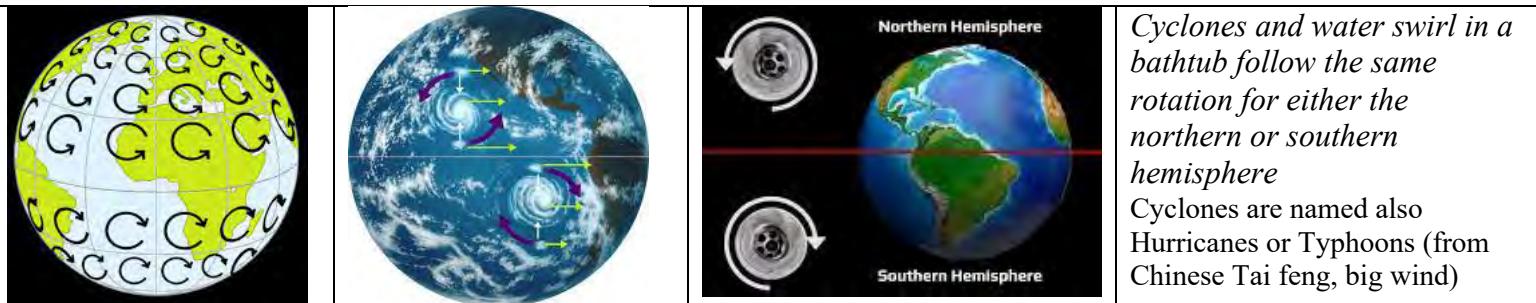

Conclusion

We have been had. On a scale that is truly hard to fathom.

The scientific community is guilty of covering up an immense scandal: that hundreds of thousands of confirmed star movements refute stellar parallax and therefore Copernican Heliocentrism. Nobody dares touch this stuff, while it sits there sticking out like a very sore thumb indeed.

This is far from the only example of a huge cover up. The fact is that our entire 'science' based world view is a fraud of truly monumental proportions.

From northern hemisphere if you look up north in the sky at the current pole star (Polaris) you will see it turning around the pole star in a counterclockwise direction (that is the sky is rotating clockwise from east to west because you have the equator and the rest of the earth behind the back of your head similar to seeing the sky from below), and that is what you see in the western astrology chart

From southern hemisphere if you look up (actually you look down south) at the current south pole star (Sigma Octantis) you will see it turning around in a clockwise direction (that is the sky with the planet are rotating from east to west because you have the equator and the rest of the earth behind the back of your head, similar to seeing the sky from above) and that is what you see in the south Indian astrology chart.

The celestial pole and celestial equator are wobbling, the earth, sun and solar system is not, only the earth celestial north pole (Dhravaloka) is changing, so does the stars/constellations who are moving backwards in regard to the Zodiac equinoctial points / ecliptic (that is why it is called the precession); Druvaloka is the planet of Visnu given to Dhruva Maharaj, it is the only spiritual planet within this universe, it will not be destroyed when this universe will end, it is invisible, it is located now in year 2000 in the direction of Polaris, the whole cosmos is rotating 360° around Dhravaloka/Visnuloka every single nakshatra day (in 23h56m), Dhuvaloka have also an orbit of 26000 years, it is “visiting” the stars of the celestial polar circle where great sages are residing.

the constellation Aries as well as all stars now in year 2000 have their zodiacal longitudes shifted about 24 degrees backwards in the zodiac compared to year 500 AD, when the signs of the zodiac were aligned more or less to the constellations of the same name and when 0° Aries was corresponding to 0° Asvini.

The example below is a good graphic except that the zodiac belt is 30° off, it was most probably designed by an Indian using the wrong Zodiac, anyway it is a good picture similar to middle ages armillary spheres.

The ecliptic is inclined at 23.44° to the plane of the celestial equator, Pole star position shift 23.44° x 2 every 13,000 years that is 47°28'

The ecliptic is inclined at 23.44° to the pole star but the polestar clockwise rotation causes the celestial equator to wobble, thus the Dhruva equatorial position of the stars reported on the ecliptic/zodiac retrogrades goes backwards in regards to the tropical zodiac who never tilts or change, that is why Varaha Mihira the greatest Indian astrologer in the middle ages said that “There was indeed a time when Magha was in the beginning of the sign Aries (i.e., at the vernal equinox).” — Brihat Samhita (3.1-2) (paraphrased from Sanskrit)

“so Magha nakshatra (a bright royal star) always in Leo constellation (not the sign) was at 0° Aries , in ~2300 BCE (when the equinox was near 0° Aries tropical sign/Magha). Then Magha moved to beginning of Leo sign at the time of Varaha Mihira (about 500AD) and is now in year 2000 at about 20° in the sign Leo, So do not equate the names of the constellations and the names of the Zodiac, it is 2 different systems, constellations belong to the stars, Zodiac belong to the Sun path. The Nakshatra system is like the zodiac of the Moon, like the Vedic Sarvatobhadra chakra, Moon is the queen of the night and is married to these 27 nakshatras or stars. Again this is not mythology or fiction, It comes originally from the Vedas, so it is truth.

Other cultures Greek, Chinese, Mesopotamian etc, have all borrowed ideas from the vedic civilization who was prevalent on the whole planet previous to Kali Yuga, these changes, distortions and adaptations then can be called mythology. Planets are the gross energy of people who rule them, it may be too much for our tiny Kali-yuga brain to understand this, but as example, a country or a business represents the external mood and energy of its president or boss, so if the leader have a specific mood it will be reflected downwards to his whole enterprise or country.....same for planets, if you understand their changing mood, you understand astrology because you can see their cause and effect on the different houses in a chart.....as above, so below, the macrocosm and microcosm, it is an open secret.

When such materialist is thus purified, he can rise up to the orbit of the Pole-star (Dhrubaloka) and the orbit is called Sishumara Chakra a circle within which the planet of Vaikuntha within this universe is situated. Within this orbit of Dhrubaloka, Vishnuloka or Vaikuntha and Adityalokas are stationed. A purified materialist who has performed many sacrifices has undergone severe penances and has had given in charities the major portion of one's wealth can reach up to these planets up to Dhravaloka or the Polestar. And if he is more qualified there, he can then penetrate into still higher orbits and pass through the navel of the universe and reach the planet like Maharloka where sages like Bhrgu and others live

In the vedas the 4 main sankrantis, or Sun entering in a new sign, refers to the sun at the solstices and equinoxes only in tropical zodiac, no mention of a sidereal zodiac, so, all so-called Jyotish softwares have wrong sankrantis and zodiacs

Dhruvaloka axis of rotation of the cosmos

Important, the Nakshatras are divided equally in the equatorial Dhruva axis cylinder, they are portions of the sky, but when they are reported on the tilted ecliptic their angle is no more  $13^{\circ}20'$  some are a bit more, some a bit less

Rotation of the sky and solar system; all stars and planets rise in the east, the earth does not rotate and have no orbit, in western astrology they view the circular zodiac from the north pole downwards, the zodiac order is counterclockwise, in south Indian chart, they view the Zodiac from below, they look up in the sky, then the Zodiac is clockwise

Please Study geocentrism in books and videos (downloadable free links below), as well as geocentric universe computer animation program and Ernst Willheim videos for astrology, otherwise you waste your time with dodgy astrology calculations and dodgy half-baked results. the center of the zodiac and the center of Bhu mandala solar system is the earth , not the sun who orbits the earth (please read Srimad Bhagavatam 5th canto, chapter; " the orbit of the Sun " or Surya Siddhanta). In astrology all calculations are Earth based, Earth centered, why? Simply because the earth is in the center of the solar system, not the Sun. All the planets rotate around the Sun, except the earth, and the Sun have a 1 Year orbit around the Earth, sankranti calculations are based on the tropical zodiac. Daksinayana and Uttarayana are the positions of the sun when it is in the south and north hemisphere respectively and the equinoxes occur exactly when the sun crosses the equator at 0°aries and 0°libra in the tropical zodiac, You cannot find any mention of the Sidereal Zodiac in all the Vedas!

Sankranti and seasons problems if The Zodiac is Sidereal

According to Vedas and Garga Muni (from Vedanga Jyotisham_Dr. S.C. Mishra);

All seasons and Ayanas are dependent on the tropical, i.e., sayana solar transit. Here is a table showing approximate dates of commencement of various months, Ritus and Ayanas. The exact date could vary by one day.

So the Vedas defines seasons from the exact entry (ingress) of the Sun in different Tropical signs, it is valid for all times in all places in the northern hemisphere, for south hemisphere, as we know, it is the opposite (6 months difference)

Now Modern so-called Vedic astrologers speculate, they try to prove the zodiac is sidereal, so they shift the position of the beginning of the signs to fit the season. Therefore trying to prove that the Vedas can be changed and do not tell the truth!!

Vedic Month	Vedic Ritu	Start on	When Sun enters	Solar Month	Ayana starts
1. Tapah	Shishira	Dec.22	Makara	Magha	Uttarayana
2. Tapasya	Shishira	Jan.21	Kumbha	Phalguni	Uttarayana

Hemant Ritu (Pre winter) ends on the solstice (21st Dec.), which marks the beginning of winter (Shishira) in India and the rest of the Northern Hemisphere. 21st Dec. is the shortest day of the year. In Vedic astrology, this solstice is known as the start of Uttarayana (Sun is at lowest point in south hemisphere and starts to go north).

quotes from scriptures about sankrantis; with my comments in brackets

Srimad BHagavatam 5.21: The Movements of the Sun, Summary

This chapter informs us of the movements of the sun. The sun is not stationary; it is also moving like the other planets. When the sun enters Karkata-rasi (Cancer) and then travels to Simha-rasi (Leo) and so on through Dhanuh-rasi (Sagittarius), its course is called Daksinayana, the southern way, and when the sun enters Makara-rasi (Capricorn) and thereafter travels through Kumbharasi (Aquarius) and so on through Mithuna-rasi (Gemini), its course is called Uttarayana, the northern way. When the sun is in Mesa-rasi (Aries) and Tula-rasi (Libra), the duration of day and night are equal.

(my comments; above statements are valid only with a tropical zodiac which determines seasons ; Daksinayana & Uttarayana are the positions of the sun when it starts going to the south and north hemisphere respectively and the equinoxes occur exactly when the sun crosses the equator at 0°aries and 0°libra in the tropical zodiac (as western astrology uses it) .. Also if the sun is in the center of the solar system as modern view, there is no meaning to say that it moves through the different signs of the zodiac because it cannot move if it is stationary in the centre!, therefore modern astronomy and even so-called vedic astrologers considers the zodiac as an imaginary belt so planets situated in different signs of the zodiac is unreal and imaginary , for astronomers it is only an optical view from earth because the position of planets in the zodiac is not their real position in the sky (as a backdrop) . that is why they consider that astrology (western or vedic) is for quacks and charlatans. Anyway geocentricity of the universe is another topic requiring much more pages)

SB 5.21.5 TRANSLATION When the sun passes through Mesa [Aries] and Tula [Libra], the durations of day and night are equal. When it passes through the five signs headed by Vrsabha [Taurus], the duration of the days increases [until Cancer], and then it gradually decreases by half an hour each month, (my comment; the declaration above is valid for the Northern hemisphere where Sukadeva Gosvami was situated while speaking) until day and night again become equal [ in Libra].

SB 5.21. 7 TRANSLATION Sukadeva Gosvami continued; My dear King, as stated before, the learned say that the sun travels over all sides of Manasottara Mountain in a circle whose length is 95,100,000 yojanas [760,800,000 miles]. On Manasottara Mountain, due east of Mount Sumeru, is a place known as Devadhani, possessed by King Indra. Similarly, in the south is a place known as Samyamanl, possessed by Yamaraja, in the west is a place known as Nimlocani, possessed by Varuna, and in the north is a place named Vibhavari, possessed by the moon-god. Sunrise, midday, sunset and midnight occur in all those places according to specific times thus engaging all living entities in their various occupational duties and also making them cease such duties (by creating day and night) (my comment; so the sun's position at equinoxes and solstices correspond to the sunrise for these places, for devatas and pitris , so the tropical/western zodiac is valid here),

SB 7 .14 TEXTS 20-23

One should perform the sraddha ceremony on the Makara-sankranti or on the Karkata-sailkranti.. The first day when the sun begins to move north and enter the zodiacal sign of Capricorn is called Makara-sankranti, and the first day when the sun begins to move south and enter the sign of Cancer is called Karkata sailkranti (. .. this is only valid, possible and applicable if we use tropical zodiac). On these two days of the year, one should perform the sraddha ceremony.

Visuva, or Visuva-sankranti, means Mesa-sankranti, or the day on which the sun enters the sign Aries (21st march about= end of the day for the devas and sunrise for the pitris). Tula-sankranti is the day on which the sun enters the sign Libra (21st sept. = end of the day for the pitris and sunrise for the devas). Both of these days (equinoxes) occur only once within a year.

TEXT 25

During these periods of seasonal change( my comment; it means the 4 sankrantis using the tropical zodiac), if one bathes in the Ganges, in the Yamuna or in another sacred place, if one chants, offers fire sacrifices or executes vows (like Caitanya Mahaprabhu's acceptance of sannyasa), or if one worships the Supreme Lord, the brahmanas, the forefathers, the demigods and the living entities in general, whatever he gives in charity yields a permanently beneficial result.(that's why Hindus follow the Sankrantis for maximizing the benefits, unfortunately they follow them 21 days later, so the full benefit is not there)

TEXT 26

0 King Yudhisthira, at the time prescribed for reformatory ritualistic ceremonies for one's self, one's wife or one's children, or during funeral ceremonies and annual death ceremonies, one must perform the auspicious ceremonies mentioned above in order to flourish in fruitive activities.

The Vedas recommend many ritualistic ceremonies to be performed with one's wife. on the birthdays of one's children, or during funeral ceremonies. and there are also personal reformatory methods like initiation. These must be observed according to time and circumstances and the directions of the sastra. Bhagavad-gita strongly recommends, jnatva sastravidhanoktam: everything must be performed as indicated in the sastras. For Kali-yuga, the sastras enjoin that sankirtana-yajna be performed always: krtantyah sada harih [Cc.Adi 17.31]. All the ritualistic ceremonies recommended in the sastras must be preceded and followed by sailkirtana. This is the recommendation of Srila Jiva Gosvami.

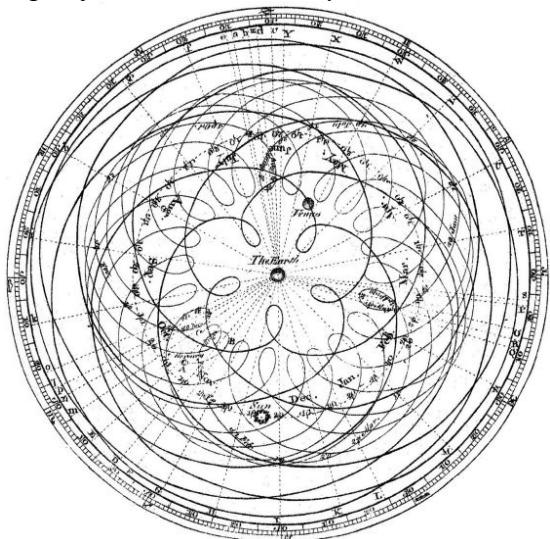

I think it is enough evidence, now if You want to do further research, the surya siddhanta gives the same conclusion as the Bhagavatam as above, because it cannot defer from it. Also if you consider vedic astrology programs, very few give calculation or ephemeris of sankrantis, except Kaala astrology and goravani jyousn so far i know.

If you are still not convinced read Surya Siddhanta by Bhaktisiddhanta, You cannot have a better Authority regarding astronomy

Whether you use geocentric or heliocentric does not change planetary calculations as the planets distance and movement relative to each other's is unchanged, Einstein and many other astronomers and scientist agree that it is only a question of relativity, that is; if you are on the Sun you will see planets rotating around you at different speeds and orbits, if you are on the Earth you will see planets rotating around you at different speeds and orbits, if you are on Mars you will see planets rotating around you at different speeds and orbits, but the movements, position and speed of the planets with each other remain the same, whatever reference point you believe or whatever system you apply, the recent heliocentric astronomical concept of nowadays is viewed as we are observing the solar system by having our feet on the Sun, then from there you will see earth orbiting Sun 360° every year and rotating on itself 360° per day.....but we are not on the Sun, we are on earth, and maybe things are turning around not the way we think they are. Where is the truth! To find it You have to position yourself beyond the cosmos to have a clear view of what is happening, that is not possible, only God can or liberated people who reside outside of the universe can, so it is described to us in the Vedas and we can verify and test it ourselves ..... Open your eyes and see....

loops of venus and mercury

mercury example from Sadaputa;

Figure 1. The geocentric orbit of a planet. From the viewpoint of a person standing on the earth, the sun moves around the earth and a planet (Mercury, in this example) orbits around the sun. The combination of the sun's motion around the earth, and the planet's motion around the sun forms the apparent orbit of the planet around the earth. This is called the planet's geocentric orbit. It lies between two curves: the inner boundary curve (A) and the outer boundary curve (B).

The center of the zodiac is the Earth!

In astrology be it sidereal or tropical we use the earth as centre of the zodiac since thousands of years (at least this did not change), not the sun as centre.....if sun was in center then every planet will have a different zodiacal position,..... the sun does have an orbit of 1 year around the zodiac which surround the central immovable earth

....read surya siddhanta available down here;

<https://icedrive.net/s/1BvZVjwgw9PRViaRDNQCP2C4fX2D> or

Another important misunderstanding is that Astrologers and astronomers as well, both western and so-called vedic describe the zodiac as an imaginary division of the sky in 12 segments, well... yes if the Earth is rotating around the Sun, then the zodiac center will also be rotating, constantly shifting around the year, its 30° boundaries in the sky, so 0° Aries, Taurus Gemini etc...will shift and fall in a different place in spring, summer autumn and winter. As shown below, So actually they do not know what defines the zodiac, what is the reference point for it????. If astrology based on the zodiac being “an imaginary division of the sky” then definitely astrology is a superstitious believe, not scientific at all.

As we can see above.. IF the Sun was in the center of the solar system or zodiac, why since antiquity till now we use all planetary positions in the zodiac based on earth as center, astrologers, astronomers and Nasa included? As it will give totally different position of the zodiacal signs and planets therein.

The answer is that the center of the zodiac or solar system is the Earth, not the Sun, although the Sun being the king of all the planets, travels/ orbits on the ecliptic with all the planets (except earth and moon)rotating/ orbiting around it.

When the Sun traveling on the ecliptic crosses the celestial equator viewed from the center of the earth, there is an equinox, so it marks  $0^\circ$  Aries or  $0^\circ$  Libra in the Zodiac (note; the constellations Aries, Libra etc. have nothing to do with the Zodiaca signs... as they are stars groups and none of these constellations are measuring  $30^\circ$ . Now in year 2000 the zodiac constellations named by the Greeks are not anymore in the background of the zodiac signs which bear their names due to the declination of equinoxes)

All right then, but if the center of the zodiac is the Earth, then the center of the zodiac will be rotating as well, then we have; The fallacy of a Heliocentric model for Zodiacal position;

If Earth rotates around fixed Sun and if Earth is at the center of the Zodiac then the whole Zodiac center will be rotating as well, the Sun position in the zodiac will always be correct but the more other planets are close to  $90^\circ$  from

Not only that but , If Earth rotates around fixed Sun then the beginning of each sign on the Zodiac ( ecliptic Sun course) will point to, oscillate between different stars every 6 months, something that have never been observed by old or modern astronomy or astrology, this phenomena is not to be equated or confused with the ayanamsa, the declination of equinoxes which moves almost imperceptibly and very slowly backwards in the constellations in an unidirectional regular direction  $1^\circ$  every 70 years

All astrologers in the world agree that the Earth is the calculating center of reference for the zodiacal coordinates of any planet at any time, so the direction from Earth to the Sun will indicate the zodiac sign and degree the sun is situated (especially during equinoxes and solstices) then  $90^\circ$  from this Earth direction will indicate the direction of the 3 other  $90^\circ$  signs.

But we have a big problem; the signs point at different locations because we assume the Earth is rotating around the Sun

If we accept that the Earth is rotating around the Sun and if we use the tropical zodiac then the Zodiac directions in the sky is shifting 186 million miles away (about 300 million km.) every 6 months according to the season

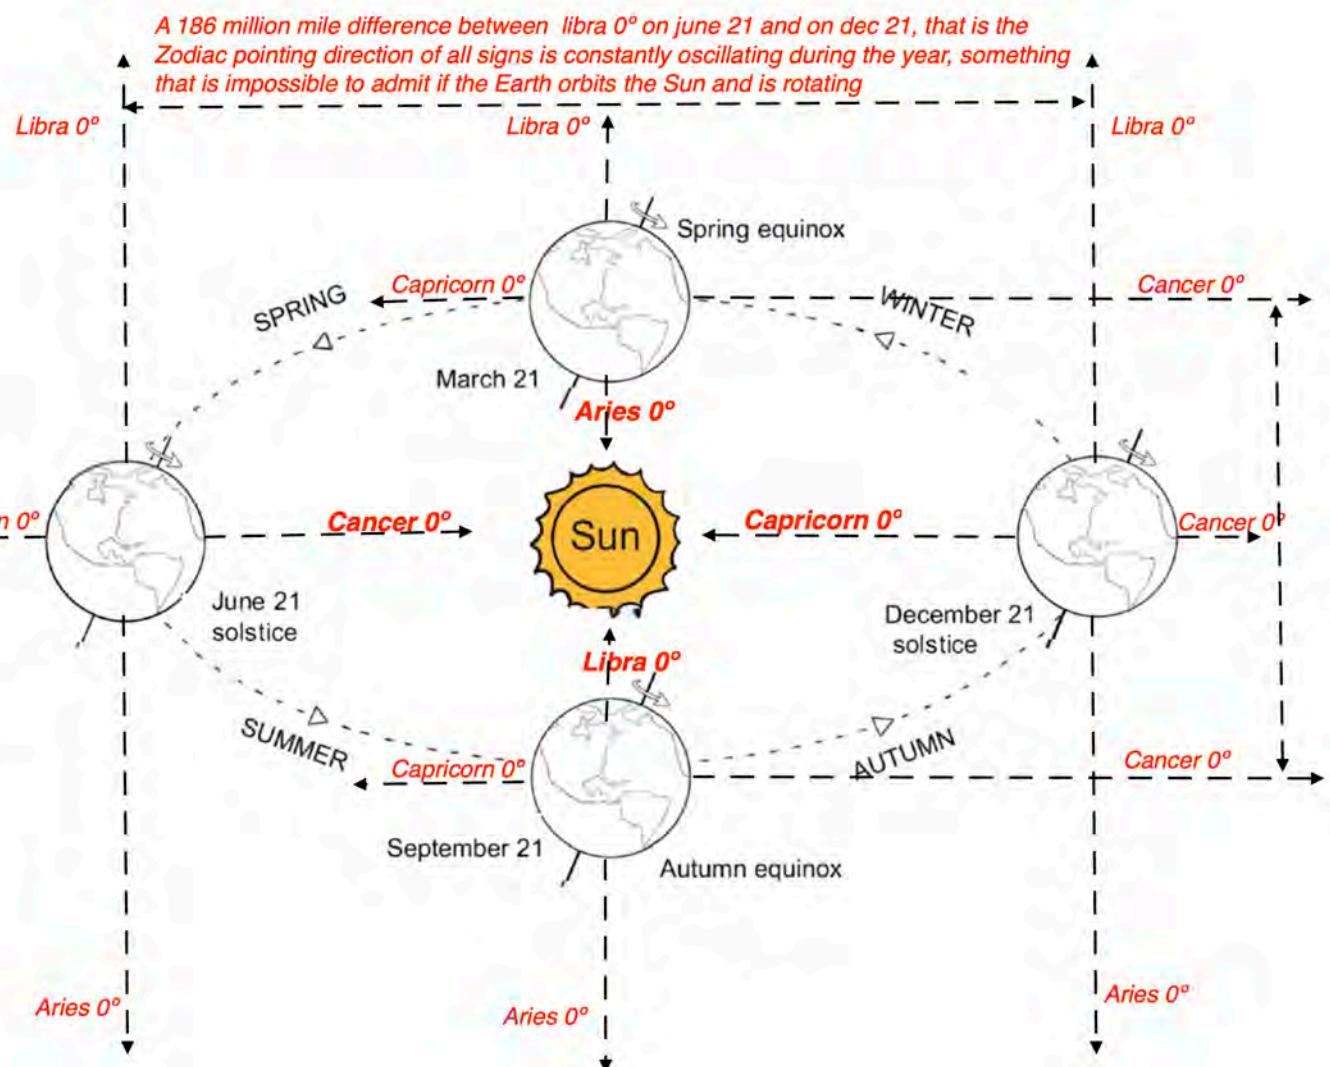

If we accept that the Earth is rotating around the Sun and if we use the so called sidereal zodiac (used nowadays in India and they wrongly call it Vedic or Jyotish) then the Zodiac directions in the sky is shifting 186 million miles away (about 300 million km.) every 6 months according to the season !!!!!.

This is without counting the declination of equinoxes (ayanamsa) which will bring the position of the planets  $1^\circ$  less every 70 years in the background of the sidereal constellations

CONCLUSION; the starting degree of the zodiac signs is not chosen randomly according to seasonal shifts that will alter planetary positions, in order to have the zodiac signs starting precisely at a certain point we have to have a geocentric model, that is Earth is in center and Sun with solar system rotates around every year (with or without considering the Earth rotation and sky fixed or vice-versa)

Or, in order to have the zodiac signs starting precisely at a certain point we have to have the sun as center of the zodiac which will give totally different zodiacal positions of planets than geocentric calculations.

Tropical Zodiac directions with earth rotating around Sun valid for any calendar year

Sidereal Zodiac directions with earth rotating around Sun valid for year 2000 with ayanamsa of  $24^\circ$  , so the position of planets are  $24^\circ$ less from the tropical position with same dates

A 186 million miles difference between libra 0 on june 21 and on dec 21, that is the Zodiac pointing direction of all signs is constantly oscillating during the year, something that is impossible to admit if the Earth orbits the Sun and is rotating

Conclusion; only a geocentric model is valid as in the picture on the right side. This model have been valid for astrologers since antiquity and is still valid today as we use actually the same principles as our ancestors. Nothing have changed in the cosmos since then, the laws are same, only different astronomical theories and speculations have appeared from “smarter asses” to bewilder and fool everybody and create a shift between astronomers and astrologers

Biggest mistake modern Indian as well as most modern

Western astrologers do, Equating the zodiac with the constellations of the same name, they call it the stars of the zodiac !!!!

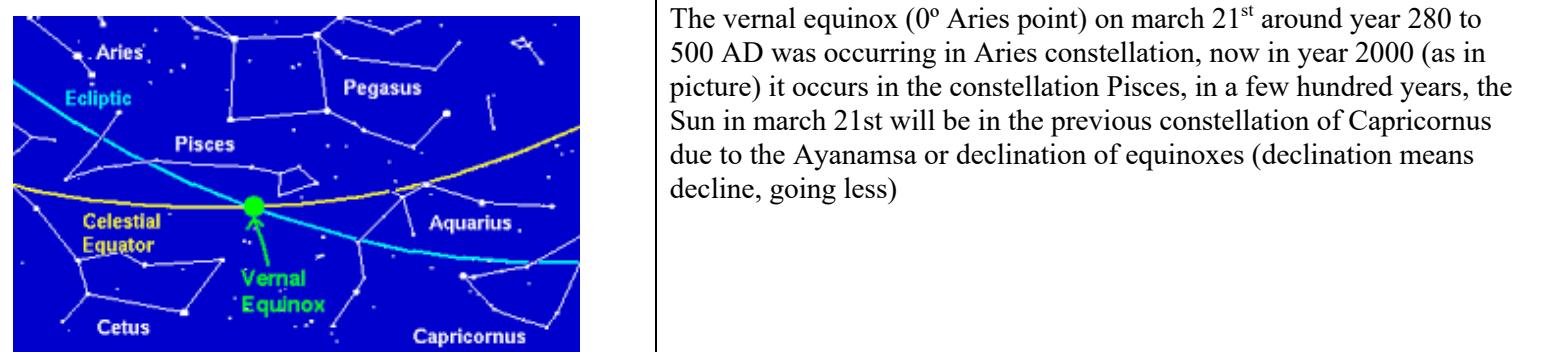

Below is a map of the sky according to modern astronomy, dividing the sky in constellations, below is half the sky

This above designation, division of the stars have nothing to do with the Vedas, who divided the sky in only 27 equal sections called nakshatras which is like the Zodiac of the moon (by the way, these same 27-28 constellations were later adopted by the Chinese, Buddhists and Persian astrologers). The 88 different Greek constellations were named by Hipparchus, a Greek astronomer who named all the visible stars with mythological Greek names and Greek alphabet (alpha, beta, gamma etc...) and imagine/draw some animals in the sky using stars as dots to make it easy to identify the constellations with naked eyes. This system and terminology is still used today in observatories all over the world. He also named the constellations that the sun is passing through with the names of the zodiac borrowed from India. At the time of Alexander the great who invaded India, Greeks imported astronomy, mathematics, geometry, astrology, religion etc. to Greece then the Greeks "adapted" and added all these "Gods" to their Pantheon and renamed them with Greek names with their stories borrowed from Indian Vedas and Puranas and distorted, adapted, and renamed them to their Greek folklore, they did similar things to astronomy and astrology and get the credit for it, like Pythagoras. As you can see below 12 out of 88 constellations bear the same names as the zodiac but have nothing to do with the zodiac of exactly 30° angular divisions, on top of it the sun path cuts actually 13 Greek constellations (Ophiuchus added) and then now You even have astrologers claiming the zodiac having 13 signs!! Some even say 14 !!!!, so much speculations are going on.....

The beginning of the Zodiac is decided by the Sun alone but the zodiac reference point is also marked on the celestial equator. That is why  $0^\circ$  Aries is shifting in the backdrop of the sky due to the 26000 year rotation cycle of the celestial north pole, the sky rotation is wobbling, not the Earth!

Ayanamsa apply to stars only, not to the zodiac, (In India they apply the ayanamsa to the stars and the zodiac making no difference) in Varahamihira's time and Greek time the sign Aries and the constellation Aries were in the same direction, no more now due to the declination of equinoxes (sky rotation axis/pole star is shifting 26000 year cycle), Varaha Mihira himself stated in its book that "there was a time when Magha was in the sign aries"!!!!....during his time Asvini was in the sign Aries, now Asvini is Pisces; due to the declination of equinoxes the stars decline/retrograde in the background of the zodiac which is the belt belonging to the Sun, as the Sun is the king of all planets (all planets turn around the Sun except Earth and Moon), so all astrological calculations, including star positions are reported on the ecliptic, which is actually the Sun course, like all state reports are given to the head of the state, the president or the king.

Erasing confusion about sidereal or tropical Zodiac....you decide.....

Note that the boundaries of the constellations in the 2 pictures above were decided in 1928 by the International Astronomical Union (IAU) and published them in 1930. The IAU's Commission on Notations and Units created the list of 88 constellations that cover the entire sky, the only thing they kept is the Greek names given by Hipparchus and Claudius Ptolemy for the constellations and stars within, Constellations were named after objects, animals, and people long ago. Most of the constellation names we know came from the ancient Middle Eastern, Greek, and Roman cultures, the modern Scientist also gave new names for the individual stars, After undergoing an investigation of cultural star names from around the world, the WGSN may adopt "new" official IAU (International Astronomical Union) star names for those stars currently lacking official IAU names, So many stars have proper names, with mostly Arabic, Greek, or Latin etymologies (e.g., Vega), the vast majority of stars now have alphanumeric designations — consisting of an acronym plus either an index number or celestial position (e.g. HR 7001, 2MASS J18365633+3847012).

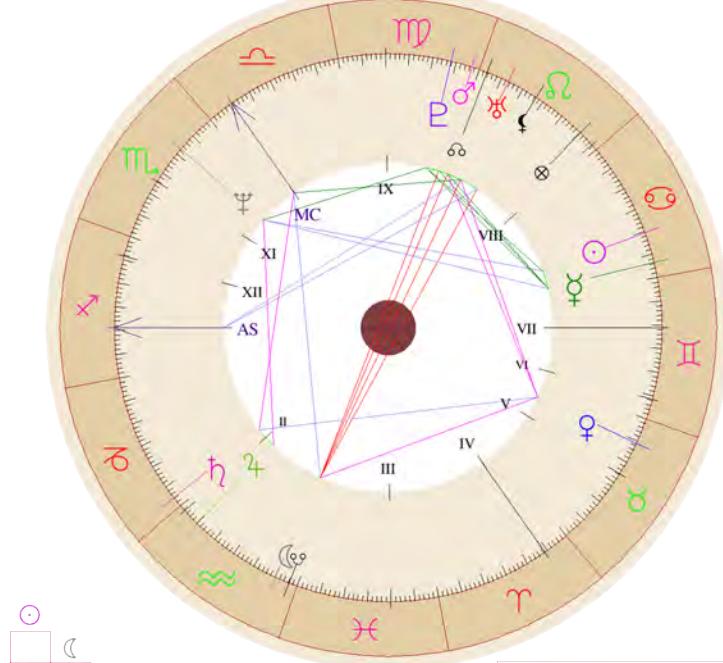

Under here is the chart of Princess Diana using online Natal Chart calculators, most use the classic  $30^\circ$  equal tropical zodiac signs, some use the 13 unequal sidereal modern constellations (created by The 88 different Greek

So-called "sign" actually a constellation which have only same name as the zodiac and now some so-called astrologers includes even 14 signs to the zodiac (The 14-sign zodiac includes the 12 traditional signs, plus Ophiuchus and Cetus) and in few hundred years they may add or remove 1 or 2 constellations as the ecliptic will then cut different constellations and the constellations boundaries and angle is also gradually slowly changing due to the declination of equinoxes!!!! So western sidereal astrology it is not even Greek astronomy or astrology at all, it is a speculation astrology created after 1930

Which System of Astrology is Most Accurate

If you use wrong astronomical calculation, you get wrong results.

So I use what people call vedic tropical astrology with Parasara classic system, only Kala software can do the calculation difference (crack below). It is the only real vedic software I know that will calculate tropical zodiacal position and apply ayanamsa to nakshatras only (if you use the recommended setting).

Now in India the most accurate system is KP system (Krishnamurti Paddhati) even with sidereal astrology, because it uses only the ayanamsha star lordship for timing results with Vimsottari dasha....they do not really consider zodiacal positions, so the timing is very precise especially for prasna.

Nadi astrology in India also is quite correct because it uses mostly the transits and returns of Saturn and Jupiter over natal planets, so it does not matter which Zodiac you use , tropical or sidereal, it will not change the transits of the planets on natal positions

But if you use KP or Nadi with vedic tropical astrology , you get even more correct

Geocentricity had always been used for all astronomical and astrological calculations

All humans (or God, Devas !) divided the sky/ecliptic equally since antiquity into 30° sections called the zodiac from the earth as center of the sky, we are still using this system of astrological and astronomical calculations nowadays from the center of the earth, not from Sun as the center of the sky (as shown here).

If we divide the sky from Sun in into 30° equal sections we would have then the sky ,viewed from earth, showing unequal divisions allotting a bigger chunk/ area of the sky to some signs as showed here.

Conclusion; If the Sun was in the center of the Sky/ zodiac as modern scientists claim, then astrology will be totally bogus, and I agree with that

geocentric coordinate systems below

coordinates from Ecliptic used for astrology to see the position of planets in the zodiac/ ecliptic not for stars

north
pole

it remains unchanged because the Sun path and ecliptic are unmoving and constant

coordinates from equator used mostly for astronomy and for stars

so stars and naksatras positions in the zodiac have to be reported using the right ascension, (Druva longitude)
because stars rotate around it, not earth

The Five Great Circles

I do not expect You to understand what I am presenting here, but test if this knowledge is right, download Kala install it, use recommended options/calculations, add Bruce lee chart and see if it fits the person life as below, or test any chart as well and see how it is more evident, clear.

In this essay we use the proper Vedic Sidereal astrology calculations with the help of kala astrology software with recommended calculation options. It is the only software in the world that does correct vedic astronomical calculations (if you use the proper settings), with both sidereal (for Nakshatras) and tropical (for planets) at the same time, and is available for free here; <https://icedrive.net/s/Ak5Nh3uzYSZy1iXNwAFiADh15XkQ> or there; <https://mega.nz/folder/uFMUQZSB#HFxnKbpJT3du328V4F1Izg>

You can try using only western tropical astrology, or using only so called Vedic Indian astrology (using so-called sidereal zodiac) with any other software, Trying any of these 2 other systems will lead you to dodgy, half-baked, incomplete or erroneous results; you will not get “the proof of the pudding is in the eating” that is; the example chart will not fit 100% the life of the person.

Next 6 pages proves the geocentric position of the planets

Looks like Sun in in the center of the Zodiac or sky; Is it?, if sun divides the sky into 12 parts, he should be in center of universe.

Well, here is the map of the sky on Jan. 1st 2000; on the left we have the geocentric view, on the right the heliocentric model. In the middle is the position of the planets viewed from earth, so we can see that astronomers and astrologers agree on the mathematical position, if so why the heliocentric model gives a very different angle and position of planets? if the Sun is indeed in the center of our solar system , stars and zodiac, why do scientists, astronomers and astrologers agree on the same position of the planets in the sky? Why they do not divide the sky into 12 parts as sun as center?

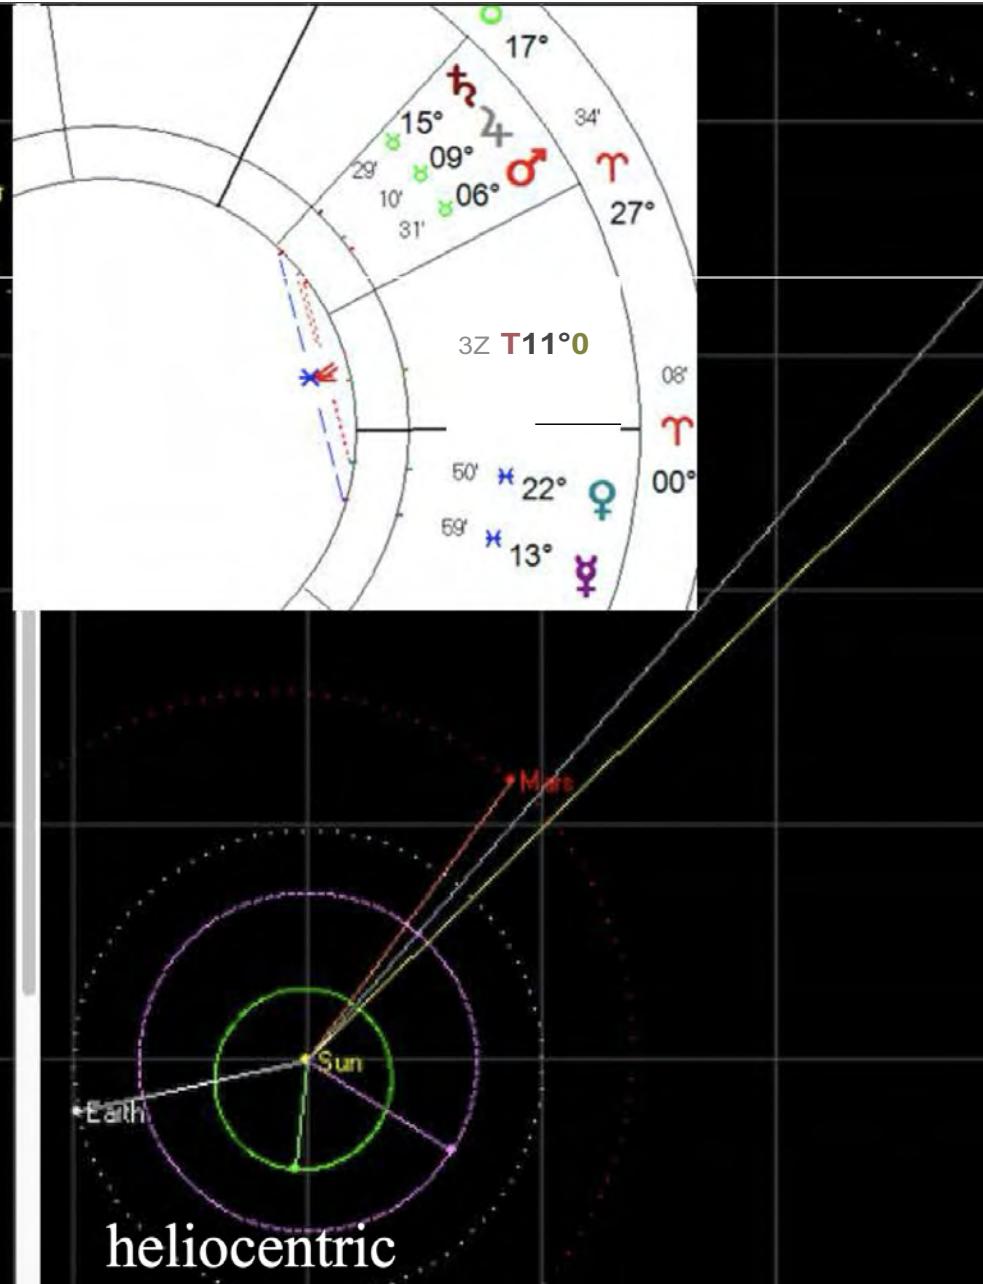

Here the model is on scale using Alcyone orbits software same map of the sky 3 months later on may. 1st 2000;

The beginning of the zodiac is attributed and accepted since antiquity to the position of the Sun in the sky viewed from earth, not from the centered, that's why NASA & everybody uses earth centered calculations for astronomy and space programs.

Jupiter

If earth is rotating, planes will have direction, destination and distances not corresponding to mathematics

1st Example:

average cruising airspeed for a commercial passenger jets is 480 to 575 mph or 770 to 930 km/h

Cape town (33.9689° S, 18.5998° E) to Frankfurt (50.0354° N, 8.5518° E) direct flight; The distance is 5869 miles = 9445 km

So to cover 5868 miles non-stop a plane will take about 12hrs;

Condor airline 12hrs 10 mn

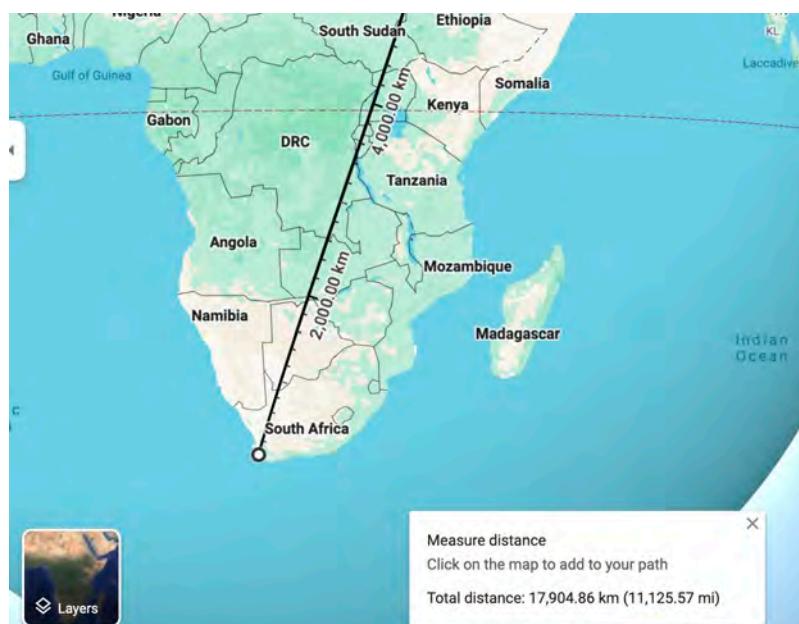

Lufthansa 11hrs 55mn

_so the plane in Cape town will shoot straight up north and will arrive in Frankfort 12hrs after.

_alarm....the earth is rotating, so during the 12 hrs flight the earth will rotate eastward 180°, the plane will then land 180° west of Frankfurt that is on the other side of the planet at 50.0354° N, 171.5° west (8.5518° E -180°) _ 50.0354° N, 171.5° west that is here close to the north Pacific Alaska islands;

So if earth is rotating the plane will actually land in the north pacific ocean (50.0354° N, 171.5° west) so it is 17,900 km or 11100 miles from Cape town using google map, the plane will cover 11100 miles in 12 hrs = 925 miles per hour or 1713km/h (if earth is rotating)

Another 2nd example flight New York JFK (40.6446° N, 73.7797° W) to Santiago SCL-Chile (33.3898° S, 70.7944° W) non-stop flight 8,248 km or 5120 miles Delta Air 10h40 mn Latam airline 10h40mn

\_So from New York the plane will shoot straight to South in Chile, after 10h 40mn we are supposed to land in Santiago Chile. \_but IF the earth is rotating we get into big trouble; After 10hrs. 40mn the earth rotated  $10 \times 15^\circ + 10^\circ$  (40mn) =  $160^\circ$  to the east, so the plane will land  $160^\circ$  to the west of Santiago that is  $33.3898^\circ$  S,  $120.7944^\circ$  E, which correspond to south western Australia (roughly 489 km or 304 miles south-east of Perth).

_So if the earth was rotating the plane taking off from New York will have to shoot south-west in the direction of Perth in Australia and cover 11,620.78 miles (18,701.84 kilometers) and travel at about 1800km/h in order to reach Santiago in Chile in 10hrs 40mn, but that is not what was happening, the plane shot exactly south direction, travelled 8248 km in 10hrs 40mn and did not landed in Australia, so Earth does not rotate.

Make other calculations yourself, north to south or east to west or vice-versa, does not fit if earth rotates, much worse for howitzer shelling, satellites and or missiles (in next chapter). Even if you believe the atmosphere rotates exactly with the earth which cannot work as earth speed rotation will be from 0 km/h to the poles to 40000 km/h at the equator...just impossible.

Another major problem for the Moon or any satellite in orbit around Earth, they will have to constantly accelerate or decelerate drastically if earth was rotating around sun ;

Earth orbit with moon 28 days cycles

So, if earth rotates around Sun (110,000 km/h) then the moon or any earth satellite will have to follow the earth exactly and multiply or decrease, accelerate or decelerate constantly their cosmic speed dozens of times in a very short period when they go in the same direction with the earth or when then go in the opposite direction of the earth.... Just Impossible.

If earth is still then Moon or any satellite will have a constant speed or velocity if on same orbit, then we have no problem.

The Moon makes a complete orbit around the Earth approximately once every 28 days. This means that the Moon orbits the Earth around 13 times in a year. The Moon orbits Earth at a speed of 2,288 miles per hour (3,683 km per hour) that is 3 times the speed of sound.

Then if earth rotates around Sun

Earth's average orbital speed around sun is 67,000 miles per hour, or 110,000 km/h that is we are moving with the earth at 88 times the speed of sound!!!

then add to it....The solar system travels at an average speed of 515,000 mph (828,000 km/h) in the galaxy (that what Scientists says!). We can then add 676 times the speed of sound to our cosmic speed...Wow !!! very crazy.

Notice; magnetic pull of other planets especially Sun and Moon influence (like tidal energy) are negligible and satellites may have to slightly modify their parameters, that is why any rotating body have a slightly elliptical orbit to compensate for these external forces.

Now about earth rotating on itself and around sun according to “scientists” and NASA;

earth rotates on itself at 1040 MPH = 1673 KMH

+ earth rotates around sun at 66 000 MPH = 106200 KMH

+ earth + sun + solar system spiral along the milky way at 490 000

MPH = 788000KMH

+ our milky way galaxy is shooting through the known universe at 670 000 000 MPH = 1078 000000 KMH.....

All above is just unproven ridiculous theories, a goat can eat anything, a mad “scientist” can say anything and stupid people will swallow anything “scientists” says.

so altogether it makes 670 600000 mph = 1079 000000 KMH so earth is shooting at light speed over the universe and we do not even notice it!

And still after thousands of years we can see the same stars rotating day after day, year after year, centuries after centuries, milleniums after milleniums with the same speed and (almost) same positions in the sky! apart from the declination of equinoxes which does not change the sky map but does change the pole rotation axis slowly.

Chapter 2

Practice; Using a chart to prove if the theory is correct including the Dasha periods of planets

The book starts actually from here, before was just to prepare You, set You up
Let's start now to analyse an example chart

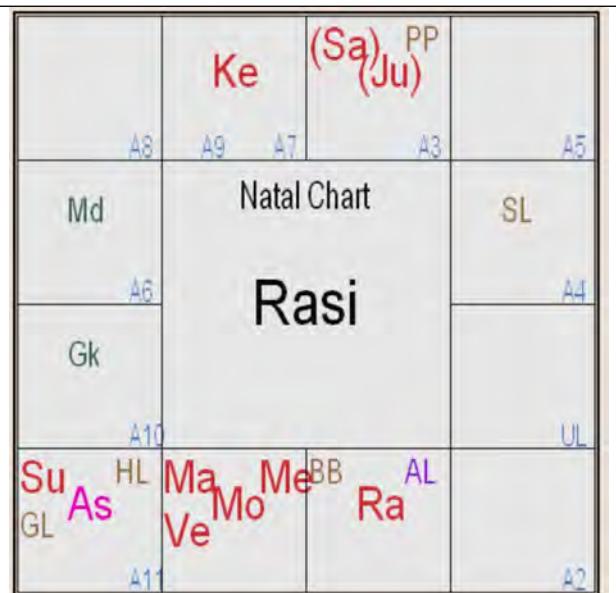

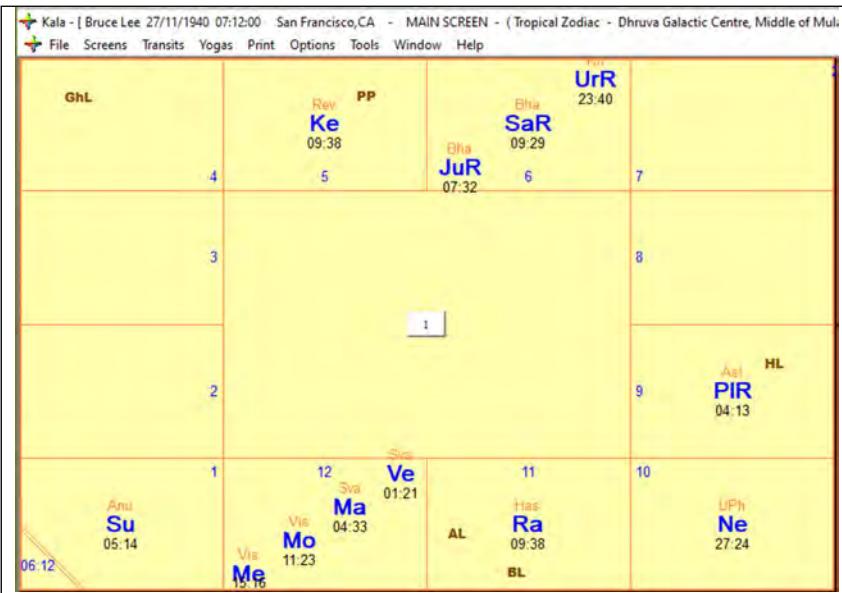

This is a study of an example with detailed biography of Bruce Lee. I choose this one because it is the most detailed and dates and events are verifiable in biographies of Bruce Lee. We can take any example for studying astrology and proving its accuracy using Vedic Tropical astrology.

Free downloads of biographies are available on Internet Archive Search or elsewhere;

“Bruce Lee a life _2018 _matthew polly”, “Bruce Lee the biography” “Bruce Lee - The Man Only I Knew by his wife Linda Lee” “Bruce Lee_fighting spirit_1994_a biography” and “The Bruce Lee story”

1st the chart study (Bruce Lee example);

I am using mostly south Indian view as it is the most comprehensible one and sometimes other chart views if needed; Jhora chart is on right; (tropical setting only for planets view for stars you need to apply ayanamsa) November 27, 1940 7h 12 am Bruce Lee born at Jackson Street, Chinese Hospital, San Francisco CA (37°47'43.8" N 122°24'32.9" W)

Below is Bruce Lee with Sirius software (crack available in links above) ; we see lots of opposition aspects (not easy life for Bruce, lots of challenges and oppositions between all major planets except the Sun) and aspects of Pluto, especially square aspects;

We see also all his planets in 6th and 12th except Sun, so expect lots of conflicts, enmity and personal hard work (6th house) in his life as well as lots of oversee travel, expenses, enjoyment (12th house)

Main Gunas and nakshatras for Bruce Lee;

all planets are in tamasic or passionate signs only sun in sattvic sign.

born with sunrise in Sagittarius (warrior) raja yoga in 1st. and 12th moon in Vishaka , deities indra and agni, triumph, do not give up. symbol is male tiger. (also in Chinese astrology that is the year of the dragon)

This is the panchanga for Bruce Lee at time and place of birth (from JHora)

Note that panchanga does not depend on the zodiac being tropical or sidereal, it depend on days, sun-moon angles and nakshatras which are always sidereal

November 27, 1940:

Wednesday, Krishna Chaturdasi till 3:45*, ruled by Jwaala maalini (accomplishment of desires)

Anuraadha till 15:42, Dhriti yoga till 7:13, Soola yoga till 3:24*,

Vishti karana till 17:20, 97.51% left,

RahuK: 11:57 - 13:10, GulikaK: 10:45 - 11:57, YamaG: 8:20 - 9:32,

Sunrise at 7:07, Sunset at 16:47,

Moonrise at 6:16*, Moonset at 15:45, Moon in Sc (whole day)

Below is the panchanga for Bruce Lee at time and place of birth (from Kala software)

He was born in caturdasi a rikta ugra fierce tithi and during Rudra muhurtha, so that adds up to His character. caturdasi is ruled by Jwaala maalini (accomplishment of desires)

Karana indicates that Hard Work, efforts is worshipped, it is the goal, Vishti is considered the most inauspicious kanana to choose for any activity.

The striking quality of the natives of this Karana is that they can go to the extreme to take revenge on their enemy; this cannot be more true for Bruce Lee.

but it is really inauspicious only if moon is in Leo, Scorpio, Aquarius or Pisces and for Bruce this is unfortunately the case – Bhadra or Vishti is on the Earth (Utter Ruination when moon is in Scorpio), the karana lord Saturn in 6th house for Bruce, so ruination by hard work is pending for Bruce; it all happened in his life as he overworked, over-trained himself, that resulted in a serious spine accident in his life and to exhaustion that made him collapsing/fainting from time to time and that was the main cause for His death.

Notice that moon also the 8th lord, representing longevity death, is in the 12 house of departure....next life, so pretty obvious for the cause and circumstances of death as he died/collapsed in the apartment of his girlfriend/mistress. 8th and 12th houses represents also sex and bed pleasures (He died in her bed anyway) moon also represents women and affection (affection for women)

Some Yogas in Bruce Lee natal chart from Kala;

Bheri "kettle drum" Yoga

Venus and the lagna lord in angles to Jupiter, and the 9th lord strong.

"One is lordly, of good birth, a king, famous, eminently heroic, long-lived, of great experience in the affairs of the world, exempt from diseases and danger, possessed of much wealth, lands, sons and wives, and enjoying much happiness on account of their virtuous lives." Do not take the readings as face value but there is several truth. This yoga offers the protection, character, and merit of Jupiter, and the worldly wisdom and enjoyment of Venus, supported by the fortune and dharma of the 9th lord.

Gaja Kesari "elephant lion" Yoga

1. Jupiter in an angle from the Moon, and joined or aspected by a benefic, avoiding at the same time debilitation, inimical rasi, or combustion.

2. Jupiter in an angle from the Moon.

"One will be splendid, wealthy, long-lived, energetic, renowned, intelligent, endowed with many laudable virtues, pleasing the king, and having great money and grains. One will destroy, like a lion, all his enemies and conquer everything by his own valor."

This is a well-known yoga that indicates intelligence, a happy attitude, and protection from adversity. It is particularly noted for wealth, and the houses involved will indicate sources of wealth. The first version, requiring Jupiter to be under benefic influence and not in a bad dignity or combust, is much more significant and effective. In this case it is Jupiter that is the significant planet in the yoga and the planet that will give the greater rise, success and wealth. The version that is formed simply by Jupiter's placement on an angle from the Moon is very common, occurring in one out of three horoscopes and is not very significant by itself, though if Jupiter and/or the Moon are involved in other yogas their formation of this simple Gaja Kesari Yoga will be a contributing factor for success and wealth.

Sankha "conch shell" Yoga

The 5th and 6th lords in mutual angles, and the lagna lord strong.

"One will be endowed with wealth, spouse, sons, and land. Having a life of enjoyment, one is also kindly disposed, compassionate, propitious, intelligent, meritorious, beneficent, and long- lived. One has knowledge of the sacred scriptures, is well conducted, and may live one year after the tale of eighty is completed. One has the authority to discipline or to punish."

The Sankha Yoga formed by the first condition of the 5th and 6th lords in mutual angles supports self-employment or authority and rids the native of performing service. It also indicates a healer or doctor very capable of removing disease in the event that other factors in the horoscope indicate a healer.

Chandra "Moon" Yoga

The 10th lord in an angle, trine, or 2nd from the Moon.

"One becomes a king having special kinds of gems, diamonds and jewels."

This common yoga indicates the importance of the relationship between one's mind and one's karmas. The 10th lord in an angle, trine, or in the 2nd from the Moon indicates harmony between one's mind and karmas. The native's actions will correspond with their mentality and they will be more comfortable with their works. On the other hand, the 10th lord not in these places indicates a lack of harmony, or conflict in the case of the 10th lord being in the 6th or 8th from the Moon, between one's mind and karmas. In this case the natives actions don't necessarily correspond to their mentality, and they don't feel as comfortable with their works. This yoga, by itself, is not a very powerful success producer but it does exert an important influence upon the native's relationship to not only their career, but to all the deeds they are required to perform.

Asubha "inauspicious" Yoga

A malefic in the lagna.

"One will be sensuous, will do sinful acts, and will swallow others' wealth."

A malefic in the lagna indicates immediate difficulties and suffering, as well as harm to the body and health. The houses the planet rules indicate those things that directly harm or hamper the desires, physical well-being and confidence of the native right from birth. Any yogas that the malefic may form create stress and difficulty to the native and harm their health. Even if the malefic is forming a yoga for success, it will still harm and stress the native himself.

Chandra Mangala "Moon/Mars" Yoga

The Moon conjunct Mars.

"One deals with drinks, earthen jars, crude instruments and women. He is disobedient with this mother. Goddess Lakshmi will never desert him, just as modesty does not leave a noble woman of any good family."

Chandra Mangala Yoga is particularly noted for giving wealth and a capable commercial ability. The association of Mars with the Moon indicates some lack of mental peace due to one's outlook on life being strongly conditioned by one's preconceived ideas and concepts. This causes the native to become angry and frustrated when life manifests in a manner contrary to how they think things should be. This yoga can give wealth, but it often does so through the dealing of that which people desire and those things that do nothing to benefit humanity. Mars, being a planet of strong opinions, joined with the Moon, the karaka for the mother, indicates that the native and their mother will have different views on some things, creating a potential for conflict.

Kapata "deceit" Yoga

The 4th lord with Saturn, Rahu, or Mandi, and aspected by a malefic.

"One will be a hypocrite."

Natives with Kapata Yoga are not all that they appear to be. The 4th house is a hidden house and malefics influences to it indicate negative thoughts, emotions, feelings and actions that at first may be difficult to discern, but that with time are discovered. Oftentimes these natives hide things from themselves first, and, as a consequence, secondarily to others, particularly female natives with this yoga. If this yoga is very severe it can indicate a native who is very disturbed and who as a result commits atrocities, while the average case of this yoga simply hides minor actions that would cause embarrassment, are not socially acceptable, or that are simply not considered good conduct. The Sun is a very weak malefic for this yoga, since the Sun is a noble planet. Rahu and Saturn indicate the worst type of deceit and negative thinking, while Mars and Ketu are middling in their deceit, wide range of hidden negative actions.

This version of Kapata Yoga, which does not include a malefic in the 4th house but only the affliction of the 4th lord, is not as severe as the other two versions that require a malefic to be in the 4th house.

DASA INDEPENDENT FOUNDATION YOGAS

Vosi Yoga

A planet, not including the Moon, Rahu or Ketu, in the 12th from the Sun.

"One born with Vosi Yoga will be skillful, charitable, of excellent speech, looking towards the sides, employed, equal to a king, and genuine. He is endowed with fame, learning, strength, and a good memory. He will have a strong physique around the waist. Malefics forming this yoga will give contrary effects."

Planets forming Vosi Yoga rise before the Sun; therefore, these planets are those with which the native initiates the experiences in their life. These are potentially the most activating and initializing planets in the horoscope. The traits of these planets will be very noticeable in the native upon first impression.

Generally benefics forming Vosi Yoga are favored. Classical texts give very different results to benefics vs. malefics forming Vosi Yoga:

"One born in a Suvosi Yoga (Vosi Yoga formed by benefics) will be liberal, blessed with all kinds of comforts, wealth, and happiness, a favorite of the sovereign, liked by all, exceedingly prosperous, and famous."

Benefics forming Vosi Yoga indicate that the native initiates their life in a well to do fashion, which includes kindness, fairness, balance, etc. The first impression of the native will be a good one in accordance with the nature of the benefic. Benefics forming Vosi Yoga, which are debilitated in the rasi or the navamsa, will, however, indicate problematic and imbalanced character qualities in accordance with the nature of the benefic, which reduce the native's capacity to initiate the things they want in their lives. Any other yogas these debilitated planets are taking part in will, however, still become more powerful due to their taking part in the Solar Yoga.

"One born in an Asubhavosi Yoga (Vosi Yoga formed by malefics) will be deceitful, sinful, laborious, disabled, defective limbed, always feeling sleepy, lazy and weary. A friend of the wicked, and of unrighteous conduct, he will abuse others. He will, however, quote sastras and scriptures."

Malefics forming Vosi Yoga indicate that the native initiates their life in a more difficult fashion, which includes reckless or imbalanced behaviors, willfulness, selfishness, competitiveness, etc. The first impression of the native will reveal some difficult aspects of their personality in accordance with the nature of the malefic. Malefics forming Vosi Yoga indicate greater hardships in initiating life's experiences than do benefics, however, they also become more productive, so any other good yogas they are forming become more powerful and success producing.

Saravali gives different results for the different planets that may be forming Vosi Yoga, but the important point is that the qualities of the planets forming Vosi Yoga become significant and active:

Mars "The subject will be victorious in war, famous, and will live with his own fortunes."

Mars forming Vosi Yoga by being in the 12th from the Sun indicates a native who initiates life through their will and strength. Courage, strong opinions, logic, willfulness, and possible recklessness are noticeable upon first impression. If Mars is afflicted by being combust, or influenced by Saturn or Rahu, there can be a tendency towards pushiness, forcefulness and demanding tendencies.

Mercury "One will speak sweetly, be beautiful and obey others' orders."

Mercury forming Vosi Yoga by being in the 12th from the Sun indicates that the native is thoughtful, fair and practical with regards to that which they initiate in life, and upon first impression.

Venus "The person will be valorous, famous, virtuous and reputed."

Venus forming Vosi Yoga by being in the 12th from the Sun indicates that the native evaluates the situations in life before proceeding. Diplomacy, grace, charm, respect and care are noticeable upon first impression.

Kemadruma Yoga

If Anapha, Sunapha or Durudhara Yogas are not present, Kemadruma Yoga is formed.

"One born in Kemadruma Yoga, though born in a princely race, becomes obscure, inimically disposed, miserable, reproached; and bereft of intelligence and learning. Given to base ways and wickedly inclined, one falls from his religion. One is reduced to penury and perils, drudging as a menial and wandering, as well as being deprived of livelihood, wife, children, residence, robes, friends, food and drink. The native will suffer extreme difficulties, sickness and filthiness."

Kemadruma Yogas are amongst the worse yogas that ruin a horoscope, making it difficult for the native to actualize anything of benefit in their lives. Amongst Kemadruma Yogas this one is perhaps the worst and one of the two of greatest importance. The Moon is a very fickle and unsteady planet that rules the mind. It is important that a planet besides the Sun, Rahu or Ketu is in the 2nd or 12th from the Moon in order to lend some firmness, stability and direction to the mind, which is necessary in order for the native to succeed with any vision that they may have.

Failing this, the mind remains unanchored and becomes a source of trouble. Fortunately there are several factors that cancel this terrible form of Kemadruma Yoga, which are being given in order of significance:

A planet, other than the Sun, Rahu or Ketu in an angle (including the 1st) from the Moon.

This is the most significant Kemadruma Yoga cancellation. The planet on an angle from the Moon serves to stabilize and focus the mind. A planet in the 4th or 10th from the Moon does this particularly and is the next best thing to having a planet in the 2nd or 12th. In fact similar effects as Anapha, Sunapha and Durudhara Yogas are said to occur if the 4th and 10th houses from the Moon are occupied by any of Mars, Mercury, Jupiter, Venus or Saturn, and some astrologers actually consider these yogas to be formed by planets in the 4th and 10th from the Moon, though they are not considered authoritative. These planets in the 4th and 10th house from the Moon will influence the native less than when in the 2nd and 12th from the Moon, but if there are none of these planets in the 2nd or 12th from the Moon, then any of these planets in the 4th or 10th become very significant and important.

In all cases when there is Kemadruma Yoga and its cancellation, it is not as beneficial as having one of Anapha, Sunapha or Durudhara Yoga. When one of these yogas is present the native maintains poise and equilibrium when confronted by new experiences, the Lunar Yoga forming planets in the 2nd and 12th from the Moon ground and stabilize the native. When there are no planets in the 2nd and 12th from the Moon the native has nothing solid to react upon when confronted by new experiences and it takes them a moment to get centered. In this case, if the resulting Kemadruma Yoga is cancelled, the planets canceling the Kemadruma Yoga are what the native relies upon in order to catch their balance. The norm and average is for Anapha, Sunapha or Durudhara Yoga not to be present, but for the resulting Kemadruma Yoga to be cancelled. When Anapha, Sunapha or Durudhara Yogas are found, consider them to be a benefit to the horoscope.

A planet, other than the Sun, Rahu or Ketu, in the 2nd or 12th rasi from the rasi of the Moon's navamsa.

As an example, if the Moon is in the navamsa of Aries, one of Mars, Mercury, Jupiter, Venus or Saturn in Pisces or Taurus in the Rasi would cancel Kemadruma Yoga. Some sources actually consider the planets in the 2nd and 12th rasi from the Moon's navamsa to form Anapha, Sunapha and Durudhara Yogas. These planets will, however, give somewhat lesser Lunar Yoga effects than planets that are actually placed in the 2nd and 12th from the Moon. In all cases when there is Kemadruma Yoga and its cancellation, it is not as beneficial as having one of Anapha, Sunapha or Durudhara Yoga. When one of these yogas is present the native maintains poise and equilibrium when confronted by new experiences, the Lunar Yoga forming planets in the 2nd and 12th from the Moon ground and stabilize the native. When there are no planets in the 2nd and 12th from the Moon the native has nothing solid to react upon when confronted by new experiences and it takes them a moment to get centered. In this case, if the resulting Kemadruma Yoga is cancelled, the planets canceling the Kemadruma Yoga are what the native relies upon in order to catch their balance. The norm and average is for Anapha, Sunapha or Durudhara Yoga not to be present, but for the resulting Kemadruma Yoga to be cancelled. When Anapha, Sunapha or Durudhara Yogas are found, consider them to be a benefit to the horoscope.

Any planet, other than Rahu or Ketu, on an angle from the lagna.

Any planet on an angle serves to focus and direct the native; therefore, these planets can avert the troublesome effects of Kemadruma Yoga. Mentally, however, the native will be somewhat fickle and unfocused.

Sunapha or Durudhara Yoga. When one of these yogas is present the native maintains poise and equilibrium when confronted by new experiences, the Lunar Yoga forming planets in the 2nd and 12th from the Moon ground and stabilize the native. When there are no planets in the 2nd and 12th from the Moon the native has nothing solid to react upon when confronted by new experiences and it takes them a moment to get centered. In this case, if the resulting Kemadruma Yoga is cancelled, the planets canceling the Kemadruma Yoga are what the native relies upon in order to catch their balance. The norm and average is for Anapha, Sunapha or Durudhara Yoga not to be present, but for the resulting Kemadruma Yoga to be cancelled. When Anapha, Sunapha or Durudhara Yogas are found, consider them to be a benefit to the horoscope.

Uttama "best" Yoga

The Moon in an apoklima (3rd, 6th, 9th or 12th house) from the Sun.

The native's wealth, intelligence, knowledge, and skill shall be great.

These are important yogas that must be used correctly or else they will be misleading. A casual observation of only a few horoscopes will reveal that there are wealthy, intelligent, and knowledgeable personages with the Moon in an angle from the Sun, and those of lesser abilities and wealth born with the Moon in an apoklima from the Sun. These yogas obviously, therefore, do not impose a restriction upon the native's wealth or intelligence. The Moon gives growth of all things and the light of the Moon is dependent upon the Sun, therefore, the growth and realization of any productive yoga, whether one that grants success, wealth, marriage, children, or anything else, is dependent upon the Moon's placement from the Sun, which indicates the level of preparedness with which the native meets the fructification of a productive yoga. These three yogas are not meant to indicate the full measure of the native's wealth, intelligence and skill, but only to indicate the measure of wealth, intelligence and skill the native has upon the initiation of a productive yoga with which to bring the results of the yoga to fruition.

When Uttama Yoga (best yoga) is present the Moon is in an apoklima from the Sun. Apoklimas represent the reaction that is the result of having been receptive to an activity. Therefore, in horoscopes with the Moon in an apoklima from the Sun, the native is very well prepared, totally ready to react to the opportunities that the initiation of a good yoga. brings. They have the full education, skillfulness and resourcefulness required to smoothly bring the effects of the yoga to realization.

Following are a few important yogas from the book Core Yogas that Kala is not smart enough to find yet, but which are well worth checking for manually:

Kalpadruma "tree of plenty" Yoga

The lagna lord, its dispositor, the dispositor of that, and the navamsa lord of the last must be in an angle, trine, own rasi or exaltation rasi.

"One will be a pious, strong, and merciful king endowed with all kinds of wealth, and fond of war."

This yoga further illustrates the concept of dispositors, including the navamsa dispositor. The more times a dispositor of a dispositor is well placed, the more auspicious the original planet in question becomes. Kalpadruma yoga, like Parijatha Yoga, helps the native to fulfill every desire.

Parijatha "celestial coral tree" Yoga

The dispositor of the lord of the lagna lord, and the navamsa lord of that dispositor, must be in an angle, trine, own rasi or exaltation rasi.

"One will be a sovereign attentive to their duty and engagements, of compassionate disposition, destined to be happy in the middle and latter portion of life, respected and obeyed by other kings, fond of war, and possessing elephants and horses."

The Parijatha is a celestial tree that has the power to grant wishes. This yoga, therefore, helps the native to fulfill every desire. This yoga emphasizes the importance of the navamsa dispositor of a planet, which is just as important as its rasi dispositor.

Chart analysis;

1st thing to see is the ascendant; Sagittarius, a Kshatriya, warrior, ruling class type of body, the lagna is just after the center of the sun; he was born after sunrise, so he attached a strong importance to dignity, self-respect, success, honors and will become brilliant and glorious very soon (all this is sun Karakas. To crown it all, the Sun is also a Kshatriya fiery planet by the way and the 9th lord as well, so You have a strong Raja Yoga on 1st house (body); good luck coming to body due to father and/or teachers, preceptors who are also strict (Sun), Sun is also a Purva-phalguni, a star ruled by Sun, so Sun periods and stars ruled by Sun should be favorable).

The ruler of Leo a dharma sign is in lagna, it is also the 9th house of dharma, so his dharma, duty as well as ethical value is reinforcing the lagna (body) who is also in a dharmic sign of Jupiter; he is not going to tolerate any injustice for himself and others and will fight for the right cause.

Fine tuning of Jupiter; In the book “2015_Martin Goldsmith_The Zodiac by Degrees” (in <https://icedrive.net/s/T9Th6PghgwvC1bxAkiFvxWjySzZ1> ) using sabian symbols for Jupiter it is said for the 8th degree of Taurus; An engineer stands in front of a diagram of an inter-city monorail system, and explains to his audience some snags that are holding up its realization. Explanation;

Forerunners; figuring out how to get from point A to point B, either for oneself or for humanity; articulating social problems and solutions; knowing what missing component must be acquired to reach some goal (put off dealing with the very problems that are hanging them up); keeping a chain of reasoning before the mind's eye; dealing with problems one step at a time; pushing people along a mental trajectory; correcting people's misconceptions so they will come to the right conclusions; articulating a vision of things to come; confident exposition (salesmanship); planning a campaign in detailed stages; maintaining one's goals in an unsupportive environment vs. jumping ahead of oneself or being sidetracked; creating a practical shortcut to the future.

This explanation gives further clue for Jupiter who is the wise guru/ teacher and the lord of 1st house of body and the lord of 4th house representing home/ nest, heart for Bruce. As we see Bruce goals are quite clearly planned for himself and his properties and he his confident he will achieve them but he knows the stumbling blocks that prevent his goals to happen, so Jupiter push him always 1 step ahead of everybody to constantly re-evaluate and improve his techniques for teaching a newer and better version of martial arts through the 6th house of hard work and self-training.

Note also that Sun (father, teachers as lord of 9th) and lagna are in almost exact trinal (favorable) aspect of Pluto/ Yamaloka, (again!!! See above Yama ruling Barani star occupied by Saturn and Jupiter) Yamaloka or Pluto the dangerous planet of strictness, punishment, drastic changes and death! So Yamaloka, (Pluto) gives strictness and could be lethal to both Sun and ascendant who are in same degree, but this lethal aspect never manifested dangerously in Bruce life, because it is a trinal aspect, although Bruce hurted people many times either in filming or training but it was under full control and he never killed anybody, although he could easily do it but he strongly warned and threaten “enemies” or people who want to control him , Note also that Sun is Pitri karaka representing father, so definitely a strong father authority influence on Bruce that sculpted his future as an actor as his father was .....By the way Pluto also square the ascendant Lord Jupiter by almost 90° as well as Saturn, the natural death karaka, this bad square aspect on ascendant Lord will become more pronounced as Jupiter (and Saturn as well) retrograde faster than Pluto and will come in exact conjunction with Pluto later in life (as applying aspect indicates) so immediate danger, death or drastic changes are expected in a short period later on in his life and it did happen unexpectedly.

Leo and Sun represents the spine; Sun in ascendant afflicted by Pluto, and ascendant itself in trine with Pluto will definitely give a permanent lower back spine problem to Bruce that will bring a drastic (Pluto) change for Him.

Quote from Biography; “On August 13,1970, (Sat/Rahu/ Merc period) he placed a 125-pound barbell on his shoulders and bent over from the waist while keeping his back straight—a “Good Morning” exercise. On this particular day, for whatever reason, Bruce failed to warm up properly, and something snapped in his back. A year passed before Bruce's back showed noticeable signs of recovery. his back remained a chronic source of discomfort for the rest of his life.”

Two extra saturnine planets having Sun as Star Lord dispositor; in the chart we have Uranus and Neptune (Indraloka and Varunaloka) in the trinal stars of Krittika and Uttara-Phalguni both ruled by Sun in the Vimsottari Dasha System. Uranus represents the subtle desire to change, reform, conquer it is connected to Sun, In the book “2015_Martin Goldsmith_The Zodiac by Degrees”

(in <https://icedrive.net/s/T9Th6PghgwvC1bxAkiFvxWjySzZ1> ) it is said for Planets in the 24th degree of Taurus; A fierce Indian brave on horseback. On his belt hang a hunting knife and enemy scalps. So it represents Struggle for dominance between competing nations or races (violence, savagery); keeping score (vengefulness); courageous behavior in keeping with one's sense of honor; fighting to gain authority within one's own “tribe” (feel unappreciated); getting important experiences under one's belt (initiatory experiences vs. retreat into an heroic fantasy life); developing physical and psychosexual confidence; developing one's “moves” in battle, in sex, or in one's work; physical life as the lens through which all the images of the psyche must either find expression, or be cast into the subconscious; the fulfillment of physical needs as the basis of human culture (anthropological study of human customs, especially among primitive peoples); the instinctive wisdom of the body.

We see here that Bruce was definitely proud of his own creed or race and could not tolerate injustice as he have seen during the ruthless Japanese invasion then then English occupation of Hong Kong, ready to defend it at any house of physical training, hard work, challenges and enemies.

As far as Neptune is concerned, representing deep subconsciousness in the 10th house of job achievements, also placed in a star ruled by The Sun, Neptune gives dreams and phobia to succeed. It is said in the book “2015_Martin Goldsmith_The Zodiac by Degrees” (<https://icedrive.net/s/T9Th6PghgwvC1bxAkiFvxWjySzZ1>) For the 28th degree of Virgo; A bald-headed man interrupts the discussion at a political meeting and forcefully introduces a totally different way of framing the problem.

Injecting new ideas into public discourse (argumentative); convincing others that one's own way of framing the situation is the correct one; derailing a false line of thought or a misguided policy; thought-provoking opinions and probing questions that get people to a deeper level; orchestrating the affairs of a group—whether of a family, a rock band, or a business; wrangling agreement from others by using soft or hard sells (employ heavy sarcasm to stifle opposition; harshly critical); finding a consensus vs. redoubling one's efforts when the balance of public opinion turns against one; assessing the validity of one's point of view by the results it produces vs. refusing to reexamine one's basic assumptions (dominate others intellectually, emotionally or physically).

Definitely we see in the career of Bruce that he was always trying to modify the job according to his ideas, always arguing against the bosses stubbornly and forcefully enforcing his way.

The lagna Lord Jupiter (Guru) makes the native ethical and/ or religious or philosophically minded (he got and read lots of books, He had thousands of them, martial book of course but also lot of Philosophical ones), note that Jupiter being retrograde indicates also that it comes closer to earth and its influence on the native will grow as time passes but will manifest surely later in life, the problem is that Jupiter, the planet ruling the body and self of Bruce Lee is in a great enemy sign of Taurus (keep going, do not give up, headstrong, dedicated) and in the 6th house of temporary enemies, worries, thickness, hard work, troubles, so expect these in his life.

Jupiter (as well as Saturn) are also in Puskhara Navamsa (both in the good humanitarian sign of pisces in D9); Pushkara navamsa happens only in signs of natural benefits in D9 ; it means being nourished also means a blooming lotus, the planet is blooming, gives good dasha and karakas, they get redeemed and strengthened, they lose most of negative qualities, as we see in the life of Bruce Lee he did some Humanitarian relief in Hong Kong and wanted actually to bring harmony and peace to Himself and the public through the philosophy of martial arts Qi-kong. etc... as well as though his films which generally were defending the oppressed against the oppressors. He was rebelling against injustice all His life. Jupiter will never allow unethical behaviour but is ready to defend it strongly (especially through his Sagittarius sign). But Jupiter and Saturn are ruled by Rakshasa Gana in D9, a tamasic , violent, forceful tendency inside that came from past life deeds and merits that he had hard time to control, impatience and anger were prominent in Bruce's Life. Bruce drank cow/bull blood; Saturn And Jupiter ruling 2nd and 1st houses (food and body) in Rakshasa (demon) division in D9.

the dispositor of Jupiter and Saturn; Venus, is in a watery cancer Pushkara Navamsa (, the planet is blooming, gives good dasha and karakas, they get redeemed and strengthened, they lose most of negative qualities) , Venus Rules the 6th (enemies) and the 11th (public, supporters) even personal enemies or challengers from the public had to admit defeat by Bruce Lee who was generally cracking jokes very often or doing show up performances of martial arts, then they generally back up securely without being offended, or he charmed the public (Venus in Cancer navamsa) by His cha-cha dance performances which He mastered. He was definitely also very good at having a good look and good dress in public, all Venus karakas, .....thus we can see the 2 seemingly contradictory sides of Bruce Lee.

Also, Jupiter is in close conjunction with powerful retrograde Saturn, the planet of hard, work austerities and death is under same Taurus sign influence (keep going, do not give up, like a bull) So, the ascendant, body/ person is strongly influenced by Saturnine both in qualities and defects. Please note also that Saturn is an avayogi, unfavorable planet, so Saturn periods and stars ruled by Saturn should be unfavorable and gives troubles). Saturn being Lord of 2nd and 3rd, will also give the Lagna Lord (body) a strong inclination to family, assets (2nd) and courage (3rd).

we also find out that both Saturn and Jupiter are in same star and same pada (Bharani 2nd pada) it is a though star; .*from Taittiriya Brahmana; Bharani is ruled by Yama, the God of Death. It has the power to take things away (apabharani shakti). Its basis above is the removal of life from the body. Its basis below is the carrying of the soul to the realm of the ancestors, .....well !!!!! .....Bruce lee died in Saturn/ Jupiter dasa....no coincidence

To add to it the moon, the 8th lord in D1 is also the 8th lord in D3, so Cancer is the Khara drekkana, and Moon with her star dispositor are the death inflicting planets, Moon star Visaka is ruled by Jupiter and sub-lord is lord is Jup/Sat.

Jaimini says that "The 8th house and 8th from it (3rd) from AL determine the period and nature of death" (3.3.5.), comment; AL in Libra for Bruce indicates again Taurus where Bruce have Jupiter and Saturn, on top of it the 8th from 8th from AL is lagna with Sun in it...the natural Karaka for the self.....too obvious

Note also that Gulika is in 2nd house at 26° Cap. and Mandi in 3rd house at 12° Aqu., both owned by Saturn, these 2 "sons, satellites of Saturn" add to the maleficence of Saturn and Jupiter next to it, note also that the 3rd house representing vitality and courage, is also the end of longevity (8th from 8th). Gulika is the son of Saturn and is the evil part of Saturn indicating the spread of poison within the body and mind., it is associated with the sins of the past where we have to be punished. The star lord dispositor of gulika can inflict death like suffering, it is called Gulika dasa. Gulika & Mandi indicates; "those who shall poison us" & "those who we shall poison "respectively. So, the planet (or AK, DK..) if they conjunct Gulika will poison or be poisoned/ killed. ....

Quote from jataka Parijata (also phaladipika); Besides a full aspect on 7th house, Gulika has a full glance over the 2nd and the 12th, .....from its position Gulika aspects the Sun and the ascendant as well....

Bruce lee fell fainting then died between 7:45 and 9:30 PM July 20,1973 in HK at 67 Beacon Hill Road during the hottest and most humid day in Hong Kong, (he overheated his brain, that was not the 1st time he dropped) Outside there was heavy rain (typhoon DOROTHY) He fainted , sleep and died after eating cannabis and Equagesic pill, kind of aspirin, a mixture who probably poison more his hot brain, Bruce Lee took aspirin for pain most of his adult life as well as chewing cannabis.

Brihat Parashara Hora Shastra Ch. 25 [Effects of Non-Luminous Planets, Upagrahas], Shloka 62-73: The effect of non-luminous planets will come during the main period or sub period of their dispositor. for each Upagraha and Muhurta Vela, the dispositor should invariably be considered before coming to a conclusion.

Bharani is a fierce star that REMOVES IMPURITIES, KARMA/transforms/restricts, gives DISCIPLINE, SACRIFICE, hard work, courage, very sexually intense/severe, unpredictable (that is Bruce with both Jupiter ruling the ascendant and 4th ho and Saturn there)

Notice also the lagna in Jyeshta 1st pada, Jyeshta being the 1st wife of the moon (mind) influence the native's body and mind to think he is praiseworthy, dignified, honorable and he will not listen or accept being bossed by somebody else. Jyeshta bring impatience and irritability. (Definitely Bruce Lee dealing with his cinema bosses, or anybody who want to boss him around or dominate him)

Jyeshta Protects the underprivileged/weak people as Bruce tried to in His Whole life.

* from Taittiriya Brahmana; Jyeshta is ruled by Indra, the ruler of the Devas. It has the power to rise or conquer, and gain courage in battle (arohana shakti). Its basis above is attack and its basis below is defense. The result of these three is that one becomes a hero.....too obvious for Bruce Lee's body/ ascendant.

1st Pada Create a loss of happiness + humorous, proud, with writing talent, living honorably.

Observations from D10 chart; (whether you use contemporary, pravritti or reverse D10)

Lagna is ruled by Yama ruling South direction in D10; indicates strict, ruthless and dangerous discipline for himself, as well as to others, in the job or occupation, notice that the Ruling planet for Yama division is Mars (definitely a martial planet per excellence ruling His ascendant for his occupation)

Mars the 10th lord in D10 ruled by Padmaja ....zenith.....He was definitely aiming to be on top of everything and everybody and have hard times being bossed around, ready to quarrel or burst into anger if he got a 2nd role in a film, or if the scenario was not to his likings. (again the martial planet )

2nd thing to Judge or look at is the moon (mind, emotions)

Moon for Sagittarius ascendant is Lord of 8th house of permanent troubles, death,.... the worth malefic for this ascendant, it is in Scorpio, an intense, secret sign, between Mercury and Mars, 2 impulsive and fast decision making planets, so that is how his thoughts will behave. Moon is also the weakest planet in the chart, Moon was in Caturdasi of Krishna Paksa = moon is waxing close to being black moon. ....inauspicious, also the 8th house is the weakest house in the chart. And 10th house of Job/occupation is the strongest house, mercury, the ruler of 10th house being the strongest in shadbala is also in Yuva (Youth) Baladi.....full of energy to get the job done. Although the 10th lord is in 12th that can indicates loss of opportunities in Job, not showing up...it happens at school and in job for Bruce, it can also indicates job related to oversea travels that were mostly related to job and also marriage business partnership (again ruled by mercury)

Also 8th lord in 12th in exact opposition to Saturn will certainly reduce his longevity.

Sky map of planets and stars positions at viewed from San Francisco at Bruce Lee's birth and place using the free software "Cartes du Ciel" (I added the nakshatra names corresponding to some stars) and the software with special nakshatra maps is available here <https://icedrive.net/s/4xgFYvX8vV8zxRADQ5Djuj6TtjFZ>

Moon is located in Visakha nakshatra, 1st pada; symbol is a fork (duality) Deity = Indragni, a pair of deities Indra is the chef of the Devas (ambition for position/pleasure), and Agni is fire (yajna oblations /herculean tasks/ insatiable desires). Stars included = (Alpha, Beta, Gamma & Iota Librae) Zubon el Genubi gives the ability to concentrate on goals, and overcome obstacles. It is social, clever, but unforgiving and revengeful. sex Symbol: Male Tiger; rakshasa temperament and a strong sexual appetite. Problems due to romantic affairs and infidelity can occur *Symbol = Triumphal arch (give an individual the patience, persistence and determination to accomplish any task).also suggests one who slowly grows in influence and can produce great fruit as one ripens with age.

*Indications=This is the "Star of Purpose". They are very goal oriented, and don't give up until they achieve success. They are extremely competitive. With their harsh opinions they may force their will and ideas on others. They experience success in the second half of their life. As the warrior spirit they will get what they want, their best solution is to be the spiritual warrior. possessiveness, jealousy, vengeful, longing.

In Human Body moon and Anuradha (lagna and sun in Anuradha) represents: Navel/stomach, arms, breasts, waist/reproduction, especially moon is 8th lord (secret parts and permanent diseases) in Scorpio (secret parts) close to mars/operation in 12th house; loss, removal.... He was called to take a physical exam for the draft board, as a prelude to possible service in Vietnam. Surprisingly he was considered to be physically unacceptable to the U.S. Army (due to an undescended testicle). in 1969, he underwent an operation to remove the undescended testicle at St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica, And Bruce's father had determined that Bruce should, at age 22, get circumcised. Comments; although he had this secret parts problem, he was able to get 2 children, 8th lord in 12th indicates that permanent disabilities tend to go away. The 8th lord in 12th creates Vipareeta Raja Yoga called Sarala Yoga. Sarala Yoga means a bad place lord residing in a bad place generally gives special opportunities to capitalize upon the misfortune of others. He may have sleeping troubles, In Bruce Case also inheritance (8th) got spent for pleasure (12th) he bought gifts and a car from father's property sales through his mother (moon), His mother used to give him money belonging to father (8th) from time to time and when he was young he used to steal a bit sometimes from his father to go to the restaurant with his friends (Venus the 11th lord) to enjoy (Venus in 12th...enjoy)

Birth rectification in Bruce Chart; let see if his birth chart is accurate;

Mercury is the Atma Karaka; the 3rd from AK will destroy any karakas (of planet, house or arudha), so his goal of having a family was very brief, as well as He was distant most of the time from His Hong Kong family or his own family. Similarly for personal assets., so the degrees of planets/ ayanamsa is correct.

Atma Karaka mercury is in 12th in D1 (enjoys) and in 9th in D9 (fortunate), and he is in a Vargottama of fire, same sign in D1 and D9, (Vargottama = planet in same rashi in D1 and D9 or any D chart; the planet in vargottama will give strong effects from its natural karaka during its dasa or antardasa related especially to the sign/ house occupied by the vargottama planet, it will be noticed in the D1 for the native but also in D9 for the spouse/ partner or for the sign it occupies. Check if planet is doubly exalted or doubly debilitated...etc )

So the Desire of the soul for Bruce was definitely into lots of research, books (Mercury) to improve His knowledge and speed (mercury), and he used a lot of communications skills, he was a good speaker and learned quite good English very fast when he enrolled seriously in university in America and even get a degree (raja Yoga of 9th lord, Sun in ascendant) although he was a bad student when he was a boy in Hong Kong. Note again that His atma karaka is next to moon the 8th lord and mars (injuries) as well as Venus (cinema), and his AK is also Lord of 7th (wife) and 10th (deeds, occupation, job) these 2 play a lot in of importance in his life and He was definitely fiery about his job. Mercury is in enemy sign, so expect difficulties in his career and in partnership (especially business partnership and communications, He sometimes refuses to communicate or show up for filming), mercury is also in Yuva baladi in middle of a sign, in full vigor, disposed by Mars, a fiery planet, he was called by his parents "the one who cannot sit still" especially during youth (represented by mercury), though later He spent sometimes hours in his library and was read many philosophy books as well.

Sun is karakat-bhava nasana if it is in lagna, sun represents self in house of self (1st house), it will destroy the longevity of the native and father, so lagna is correct as these happens in Bruce life. His father was an opium smoker and Bruce died early. Sun being the 9th lord in Bruce case doubly represents the father, this time as an authority for Bruce as we see in Bruce life, Sun, father had a strong influence on Him and on His future career, because of his father he started cinema.

Lagna in 27 stars, Horasara Ch. 28.

The native, who has lagna in Anuradha will wander and live in foreign places. (One of Anuradha's Karakas)

Birth rectification;

Method using solar arc using 1 degree per 1 year of life progression

PROCEDURE using kala; (all planets move exactly  $1^{\circ}$  per year in birth chart signs and house cusps remain in same place) look at which planets are going to arc/ solar arc/ conj. the 4 angles of the chart (asc - desc - MC./zenith and IC./nadir) and are in 3,6,9 or 12th house in birth chart (before 4,7,10,1). Solar arcs are moving 1 degree per 1 year of life (see Noel Tyl book; Solar Arcs: Astrology's Most Successful Predictive System )

So if a planet is going towards an angle, let say it is 5 to 6 degrees before that angle, then in 5 to 6 years after birth something is going to happen into the life of the native;

In Bruce chart,

Mars hit 12th cusp in July 1944

Venus hit 12th cusp in July 1947

No dated events for Bruce from 1940 to 1947 first 7 years of his life but we know he was very frail/ sickly and nearly died. 6th and 12th houses and it was bad in Hong Kong with Japanese occupation.

Pluto hit 9th cusp in mid 1955....expect some change for the future luck in Bruce's life....

Between 1953 and 1955, Bruce appeared in ten of Chung-luen's message driven melodramas. His small roles in these movies established Bruce in the public mind as a character actor, not a star, He earned the equivalent of US$2,000 per film in 2017 dollars (Most of the film shoots lasted only twelve days.). Bruce found roles more difficult to come by. He only appeared in five films in the next five years (1955-1960).

Mercury hit ascendant in Nov. 1960; he left Hong Kong on April 29, 1959 and started working (mercury is 10th lord) and enrolling in studies paying for tuitions, on December 2, 1960 he graduated from Edison Technical School then in March 27, 1961, Bruce gained admission to the University of Washington in Seattle,

So, mercury (studies) pay off for him in that period, the birth time of 7:07 to 7:08:18 am seem correct within a degree (4mn)

Moon hits 7th cusp in nov 1964; He returned to Seattle on Wednesday, August 12, Bruce and Linda went to the King County Courthouse to apply for a marriage license secretly August 17, 1964 Bruce Marries Linda Emery at the King County Courthouse, Seattle

With moon and mercury solar arc we can subtract 1 to 2mn. to the birth time (= 3 to 6 months in solar return timing)

Saturn hits descendant in June 1966, he started acting/ filming and developing his business cooperation and getting his first pay check. So to 7:08:18 am seem correct, if we subtract 1mn to the birth -time Saturn will hit descendant around march 1966 where nothing specific happens.

September 21, 1965 Bruce Signs a contract with 20th Century Fox as an actor so for Saturn to hit descendant in sept. 1965, birth time have to be about 3mn earlier around 7:05 solar arc progressions in nov. 1968, again timing is quite accurate, with a birth time of about 1mn, less it will be even better;

They found a 147,000 $ house in bel air. Steve McQueen offered 10000 down payment. on September 9 1968. They applied for a home loan and it was approved on September 13,1968. “With the mortgage payments, property taxes, and insurance, we were in way over our heads,” Bruce’s students from his Chinatown school helped him move furniture on September 28 and 29.

October 1, 1968      Moves to Bel Air, CA

Rahu hits 12th cusp and ketu hits 6th cusp on nov-dec 1968 (similar timing Bruce and family Moves to Bel Air, CA)

Mars hits asc. In march 1971 for a birth time of 7:08:18 am

On August 13,1970 Bruce get an accident, he placed a 125-pound barbell on his shoulders and bent over from the waist while keeping his back straight, something snapped in his back the final diagnosis was that he had injured his fourth sacral nerve, permanently They told him to forget about kung fu: “You will never kick high again.” For Bruce Lee, this was like a death sentence.

So, for this accident to happen the birth time should be about 2mn before 7:08:18 am for Mars to hit the ascendant in August 1970, then possible birth should be 7:06 to 7:08 am check out Birth rectification with KUNDA in JHora (first breath or first cry of baby) this is real birth. (mentioned in Prasnamarga, Prasnareethi, Varaha hora, Saunaka hora)

Kunda ‘s position does not change if the time of sunrise is incorrect. So it is very reliable.

Rule; The moon must be in trine with Kunda in D1 (Kunda moves 81x faster than the lagna )

Kunda moves 1° every 3" sec.

.....30° every 1'30"

.....120° every 6'

so the maximum range of rectification will be +/- 3mn. using Kunda lagna.

the tattva element of Kunda is supposed to be the native prominent tattva..

Kunda position is given in JHora as 22° Leo for Bruce birth at 7h 12 am !!!, so Bruce should be born before; between 7;09;09 and 7;10;39 for Kunda to be in cancer, in trine with Moon, or about 5mn later for kunda to be with Moon in Scorpio than will bring the lagna to 7° 02' Sagittarius corresponding to 7hrs 16'3" of birth-time and the lagna will also change from Anuradha 4th pada to Jyeshta 1st pada

Birth rectification Using KP

KP Birth time rectification with cuspal star lordship (for rectification from +/- 1 to 4 mn);

The fruitful cusps for child birth are 2, 5 & 11. Sun & Moon (father and mother, Fruitful Indicator Planets FIP's) in a native's chart must occupy a fruitful position from the cusp of the 9th house (father) that is Su & Mo must have something to do with 10th, 1st & 7th cusps (= 2, 5 & 11 from 9th) in the native's charts

So as a rule; Su & Mo should be the Nakshatra Lord [NL], sub Lord [SL] or sub-sub lord [SSL] of 10,1 & 7 or 1,7 or 1,10 house cusps

And/or Su & Mo should occupy 10,1 or 7 houses (be between 10-11, 1-2 or 7-8 cusps) if not we have to adjust the birth time as follow;

The star lord dispositor of the house cusps change their sub-sub lord [SSL or SAL] rulership every 2min 40sec to 8min 48sec.

so by adjusting the time of birth + or - few second up to 4mn 24sec this will make the sun or moon the sub-sub lord [SSL or SAL] ruler of the 10,1 or 7.

In Bruce chart; November 27, 1940 7h 12 am (official hospital birth)

Cusp 10 (2nd from father = family) in Ut. Phalguni (Sun/Ju/Ke) OK Sun is starlord

Cusp 7 (11th from father = ) in Rohini (Mo/Sa/Mo) OK moon is starlord

Cusp 1 (5th from father = children) in Jyeshta (Me/Me/Ke) should have moon as sub-sub lord of 1st cusp, so a bit earlier we have Sa/Ju/Mo ending period at 7;08;46 and before we have Sa/Ju/Su starting at 7;07;39,

So Bruce Lee could have been born between 7;07;39 and 7;08;46

Also possible that the Cusp 1 (5th from father = children) have Me/Me/Su or Me/Me/Moon so Bruce Lee should have been born between 07;13;59; to 07;15;11

Before 7;10;37 lagna is Anuradha and weapons, challenge to the establishment. utmost obstinacy to protect, obsessed by success, honors & dignity, Antares = Jyeshta; must be always active or feel depressed, mental & analytical brilliance, spirit of adventure, courageous, conflicting, obstinacy, injuries to eyes, honours sudden loss, stubborn, suspicious, violent, several marriages (girlfriends ) we find these qualities of Jyeshta/ Antares fitting more to the lagna (body) of Bruce Lee.

Also it makes the ascendant rising about 1mn 30 sec. after the sun disk appeared or the horizon, if Bruce Lee is born at 07:13:59 am the the sun center was already on the Horizon.

then use Pranapada (in Jyothisha Rathnakaram) = first prana, Pranapada must fall in trine or in 7th from lagna in D9, Pranapad moves to lagna in D9 at 07:08:18, so Bruce Lee should have been born between 07:08:18 and 7:08:46 with pranapada

► Rectification Using then the tattva cycle and tattvantara sub period, (Regular use of this theory by ancient astrologers, Some slokas in Uttara kalamrita also initiates thoughts in these lines as well as Yanjcha valkya smrithi)

Please use the tip of the Sun disk is truly on the horizon, (how can the earth atmospheric condition & refraction affect the planet's influence on earth or the tattva cycle ? impossible..)

How it works; there is 8 cycles of 3 hours from sunrise to the next, each cycle comprises increasing and decreasing periods of the 5 elements, each period is then divided into sub periods and sub-sub periods. Males are born during male tattvas periods and subperiods only, females during female tattva periods and subperiods, other entities at any time. Exceptions can occur only if a person is born at the junction of the 3 h. periods or in the middle of the 1st cycle (that means if the person is born exactly at sunrise or every 90 mn. thereafter then the person can be either male or female).

effect of birth in different tattvas; male or female qualities will be more prominent for the native born in the specific tattva; if birth is in aroha tattva main period then the element influence/ quality will increase with age , if in avaroha it will decrease as the native grow older

1. Prithivi/for males ; materialistic/ earthly disposition, enjoying mood, comforts.

2. Jala /for females ; emotional, sensitive, passive, intuitive, detached.

3. Tejas/for males ; ksatriya type, enthusiastic, imposive, impressive, in power (rising or losing), commanding.

4. Vayu/for females; active, communicative, enjoying, intellectual.

5. Akasa/ for males; deep thinking, research, analysis, philosophy, science, immaterial, detached.

MAIN PERIOD CYCLE; twilight birth (if it occurs) is defined to begin in the morning, and to end in the evening when the center of the Sun is geometrically 6 degrees below the horizon/ ascendant or descendant (= about 24 mn or 1 ghati if birth is near the equator).

Tip of the sun truly on horizon (geometrically correct) = sun longitude is +/- 16' of arc from lagna (16'= sun's radius) = (-16' = -16 sec for rising sun)

Tip of the sun appears to be on the horizon (as we see)= sun longitude is +/- 50' of arc from lagna (16 + 34' of refraction) = (-50' = -50 sec for rising sun)

▼ TIME OF SUNRISE OR multiples of 3 Hours from sunrise .(3 times 8 cycles = 24 hours)

TIME OF SUNRISE given in Kala software on 26/11/1940 07:04 on birth place and time of Bruce lee (tip of the sun is on the horizon)

TIME OF SUNRISE given in JHora software on 26/11/1940 07:02:44 on birth place and time of Bruce lee (tip of the sun is on the horizon)

TIME OF SUNRISE given in Starry Night Pro Plus on 26/11/1940 07:05:48 on birth place and time of Bruce lee (tip of the sun is on the horizon)

So officially he was born at 7:12 am , it was after the sun center was above horizon. Sun center was on horizon at 7:07:18, so after that it is officially Wednesday in vedic day as days start at sunrise

If we use Starry Night Pro Plus we got 7:07:22 as sun center on the horizon

(earth element). We use Sun center (Hindu) then male birth is possible from 07:07:18 to 07:13:18 to be more precise, for the birth to be in male tattvas , it should be from 07:07:18 to 07:07:30. Or 07:07:54 to 07:08:30 or 07:09:18 to 07:11:18 or 07:12:06 to 07:12:42 or 07:13:06 to 07:13:18 after that it is female birth

After 7:10:37 lagna is Jyeshta so most probably the birth-time is 07:12:06 to 07:12:42 (tejas/fiery sub tattva) or 07:13:06 to 07:13:18 (earth sub tattva) and most probably close to 07:13:18 for Cusp 1 (5th from father = children) to be close to Me/Me/Su as star lord/ sub/ and sub-sub, allowing nakshatras borderlines to slightly vary with settings.

Confirming all this will only be verifiable with divisional charts and actual dates of events in Vimsottari and transits, before we go there we can use the transits to verify main events usefull dates for birth rectification;

April 16, 1970 Bruce returns to America

One important thing to look at is Rahu indicating the future and the insatiable desires, Rahu is in 11th house with Arudha lagna and Indra-dhanus, AL or Arudha lagna is how Bruce Lee (lagna) is perceived in the world, it shows the tangible results of the house (lagna in this case)

BPHS 29.30 says; If Mercury is in the 2nd from lagnapada, the native will Lord over the whole country (at least Hong-Kong and also US as He was dual citizen). Venus in the 2nd from lagnapada will make one a poet or a speaker (He spoke a lot and philosophies from time to time).

BPHS 29.30 – 29.37; If the Darapada falls in an angle, or in a trine, counted from Lagnapada, or, if Lagnapada and Darapada both have strong Grahas, the native will be rich and be famous in his country. (Bruce Dhara pada or Arudha of 7 is in Aries opposite to AL)..... If the Darapada falls in the 6th, 8th or 12th from Lagnapada, then the native will be poor. If Lagnapada and the 7th therefrom, or an angle, a trine, an Upachaya therefrom is occupied by a strong Graha, there will be happiness between the husband and wife. If Lagnapada and Darapada are mutually in Kendras, or Konas, there will be amity between the couple. If these be in mutually 6th, 8th or 12th, doubtlessly mutual enmity will crop up .O Brahmin! Similarly mutual relationship, or gain, or loss through son etc. are known, based on Lagnapada and the relative Bhavapada. If Lagnapada and Darapada are in mutual Kendra, or 3rd and 11th, or in Konas, the native will be a king, ruling the earth. (Bruce have lagna pada or AL in 11th house; he was famous all over the world like a king ) Similar deductions are made with reference to mutual positions of Lagnapada and Dhanapada. (in this case Bruce Have Dhanapada or A2 in virgo in 12th from Lagnapada, so whatever he got he spent almost immediatly)

Jaimini Sutras adds; The darapada in a quadrant or trine (from Arudha Lagna) brings the blessing of Sri Devi (i.e. prosperity & good fortune). (JS 1.3.18) If the darapada is in other houses (other than quadrant/trines), the native is unfortunate. (JS 1.3.19) The darapada in a quadrant or trine from Arudha Lagna indicates martial harmony and physical compatibility. (JS 1.3.20) The darapada in the sixth, eighth or twelfth houses from Arudha Lagna makes the couple inimically disposed towards each other. (JS 1.3.21)

POSTSCRIPT

As light is self-illuminated and dispels darkness so proper knowledge is self-evident and dispel doubts; The Vedas instruct us to get out of the existence of darkness and go forward on the path of light (tamasi mā jyotir gama), Godly, saintly path, guided by scriptures from God. Because he created this world full of darkness and suffering with a way to get out of it. Light means knowledge, and darkness means ignorance. So if we remain in this tamasi, then jaghanya-guṇa-vṛtti-sthā adho gacchanti tāmasāḥ. Adho gacchanti means lower planetary system or animal life , degraded life, abominable life, low grade life. "Don't remain in birth and death cycle. Come to the eternal life." So, astrology deals with our Karma from previous life especially, and we cannot change the past, nor the present, but can and have to change our future (in this life, the main lines are already pre-destined) we should endeavour to change our future and future life consequently.

If we do not believe in God, Karma, reincarnation, soul, eternal life etc. there is absolutely no reason to believe also in astrology; we are then living in vain with no clue or goal in life apart from trying to improve our propensities for better eating, sleeping, mating (sex) and defending (fearing, protecting), no better than animals who do the same things 24 hours a day, we remain sophisticated animals and we call it humanitarianism, philanthropism, nationalism or so many other ism without solving the problems of life which are Janma-mṛtyu jara-vyadhi-duhkha-dosanudarsanam (Bhagavad Gita 13.9). The body is subject to its own principles of birth, death, old age and disease, but one who is situated in spiritual life goes to Vaikunta (yato bhaktir adhoksaje) get no rebirth, soul is liberated, then no death, no old age and no disease. He goes to live with God in the kingdom of God ..... forever. No more karma, no need for astrology anymore. But because we are still down here we do need some clue about what God, Demigods, (Devas) have in store for us, we got what we deserved, not necessarily what we wanted, so we should first deserve by doing good or pious actions, then we can desire, not the other way around. Our karma is a mixture of rewards and punishment from higher authorities in this universe, we do not control it, so the planets are representatives of God's government, they are ruled by people that occupy ministerial positions in our solar system and they choose what we deserve. They are grahas, they grab us and toss us around like dolls or puppets and we think we are "free" the only freedom we have in this Durga universal prison house is to behave like a good citizen or prisoner or we can choose to ignore and do what we want. Like a child following his instinct preferring to play instead of going to school which he does not like, but his future is bleak if he does not know anything and do not get educated about what is good or bad.

We didn't choose where to take birth, or in which planet, country, family, all this was already decided before we (soul) dropped down to earth, then popped out from a womb and start to cry, breathe.....without any clue where we come from!!!! And why thing happens to us. So our karma is engraved in our lines in the palm of our hands, we can see it also just by looking at our face and head (physiognomy), similarly our karma is written in the sky, we can decipher it, we call it astrology (astro-logic).
